Firemen Seek 'Lower Wages'

Three firemen struggled in vain before the personnel board Tuesday to be placed in a lower paying job classification.

The unusual situation around which controversy has raged for several months was brought about by the change of titles in the fire department. Title of the high-ranking job of fire captain was changed to battalion chief, and fire captain was made a position of lesser authority.

Firemen George De Bono, Henry Weisner and Allen Brush were all on the civil service eligibility list for fire captain, which is now battalion chief.

Ask "Demotion"

While they would be in line for better pay as battalion chiefs, all seek to be "demoted" to fire captain's status because there will be no openings for the battalion chief job in the foreseeable future. But there are six openings for fire captain, a job comparable to what was formerly known as fire equipment operator.

De Bono and Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy, in nearly two hours of debate before the board, argued that the trio should be automatically placed on the captain's eligibility list without re-taking the civil service examination.

In unanimously rejecting their plea, personnel board members ruled that since fire captain's duties had been changed, all candidates must take examination for the job.

Other Action

In other action Tuesday, the board:

1. Held public hearing and approved duty statements for positions of parks senior maintenance man, recreation senior maintenance man, city electrical inspector-electrician, garage serviceman, garage foreman, recreation leader, police dispatcher-clerk; held over acceptance of duty statements for library positions until some adjustments are made in minimum qualifications; also held over duties on park and recreation maintenance man to determine division of duties between that job and gardener.

2. Decided to proceed with job analysis for all city positions to determine if duties performed compared with the civil service classifications.

3. Received letter from Shelby Ross Jr., parking meter collector-repairman, asserting that too much of his time was being spent running duplicating machinery. The board held that this was an administrative matter "requirring closer scheduling of his work" and was not a matter for their decision.

4. Noted recently published article which said trend in cities was to reduce residency requirements for city employees.

City To Halt 'Free Ride' On Outside Fires

Unincorporated areas will have to do without Daly City's fire fighting facilities in the future.

In study session Wednesday, the council agreed with City Manager Howard Stites that Daly City's fire apparatus and personnel were responding to too many calls outside the city.

Stites admitted that almost all cities had mutual aid pacts and would respond to fires in neighboring cities on request of the fire chief from the stricken area.

"But some of these unincorporated areas have no fire protection, so we're rendering service," the manager said. "I don't believe we should accept these outside calls unless we get a request from the fire chief from the outside area."

Stites said he would get together with Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy to work out an agreement with other districts for responding to boundary-line cases where it was questionable which district had jurisdiction. But the council agreed no more calls will be answered from private individuals in unincorporated areas.

Cop Gets Probation For Wreck

Rookie cop Lionel Hess was placed on one-year probation by the personnel board Tuesday night for "carelessness" in a Coast Highway accident that resulted in nearly $2000 damage to a police patrol car.

If Hess is involved in any further driving accidents within the next year the board will recommend more severe disciplinary action by the city manager.

The board held that Hess should have used more precaution when he made a U-turn on the fog-shrouded highway last February. As Hess made the turn, a station wagon rammed the police vehicle. When Hess left the patrol car to question the station wagon driver, a third vehicle crashed into the officer's car.

While placing Hess on probation, the personnel board also heard recommendation from the city manager that a cash award be made to employees driving for one year without an accident.

The board asked for more time to study the proposal, and suggested that perhaps some form of commendation could be substituted for the cash award.

The Town Record

By MONTE DAYTON

Daly City's personnel board came to a screeching halt Tuesday on acceptance of civil service duty statements for library jobs.

Among other things, they discovered that qualifications for children's librarian are much more stringent than standards for senior librarian. Yet the latter position is higher ranking on the civil service scale.

In other words, someone who could pass the senior librarian examination might flunk out for the lower position of children's librarian.

SAMPLE of splendid variety of entries in Lion's big "Youth Art Exhibit and Contest" were these fine pieces of sculpture, being examined by Elio Fontana, general chairman of the five-day show. More than 10,000 persons made affair "best to date" here. THE RECORD photo

Mrs. King Sam's fifth grade class at Colma school walked off with the top prize as the outstanding entry in the Daly City - Colma Lions' fourth annual "Youth Art Exhibit" at War Memorial building.

The knight-depicting mosaic captured the raves of three judges and the more than 10,000 people who flocked to the building during the five - day show.

Lions chairman Elio Fontana termed the turnout "indeed gratifying, the best program we've had here."

Bufano Elsewhere

Only disappointment was the absence of Beniamino Bufano, world-famed sculptor and artist, who was scheduled to be one of the judges. "Pressing business' caused his failure to appear. Taking his place was Christian LeBesque, San Francisco artist. He teamed with Mario J. Ciampi, prominent elementary and high school district architect, and Lawrence Patterson, College of San Mateo art professor, in the judging department.

Winners of trophies, plaques and ribbons in the six respective classifications:

Group 1 (kindergarten and 1st grades): Florence Gugel, first prize; Janice Tofting, second; Ellen Gerino, third; Sanford Rabinowitch, fourth, Eugene Del Porto, fifth.

More Winners

Group 2 (2nd and 3rd grades): Jill Taylor, first; Rayne Lichtenburg, Dana Lewis, Carol Slavck, class project, Lira Zolessi.

Group 3 (4th through 6th grades, pictorial): Dickeelov Norwood, first; Greg Baird, Marcia Ojakian, Margaret Newman, Dennis Taylor, Larry Adams, Desmond Epidendio.

(Crafts): stitchery class project, Madeline Belli, Marylyn Downey, Lanonne Wenzel, Janice Hoefler, Jerald Hess.

Group 4 (7th and 8th grades, pictorial): Bob Bills, Madeline Montana, David Mark, Bob Behder, John Moore.

870 CAST BALLOTS

Brown Retains Cop Post In Broadmoor Election

A total of 870 Broadmoor police district voters, more than double any previous turnout, went to the polls Monday and gave incumbent commissioner Harry Brown a thumping 543-324 majority.

The turnout was almost exactly one-third of the district's 2700 registered voters.

Brown, 755 Stewart drive, an insurance adjustor, won handily against Gail Galusha, former Broadmoor police officer, although Galusha's total would have been enough to win any previous election.

Exceptionally high vote was attributed to the new policy of mailing out sample ballots and the vigorous 11th hour campaign conducted last weekend by both candidates.

Brown won both precincts, polling a 416-253 advantage at the Broadmoor police station, 127-71 at the Colma firehouse.

Brown had the backing of the police department in his quest for another three-year term.

Galusha, a former police sergeant who quit his position five months ago in a dispute over seniority, lives at 536 MacArthur.

Ballots will be canvassed at a special meeting this Friday.

Hi Trustees Adopt New School Calendar

Jefferson and Westmoor High school students will start the 1957-58 term on September 10, according to the recently adopted school calendar.

The school year will consist of 179 days. Christmas vacation starts December 23 and students return on Monday, January 6. School closes on June 13.

APPOINTMENTS FOR KEY POSTS FACE COUNCIL

With three councilmen facing a test at the polls just a year from now, important commission posts come up for re-appointment in the next few weeks.

Four appointments, two each on the planning and library commissions are to be made, while a long-time vacancy on the personnel board remains to be filled.

On the planning board, terms of Roy Foster and Tony Masini expire July 28.

Terms of library commissioners Frank De Martini and Frank Pacelli expire June 30.

All four commissioners have only served one year, since they were appointed to fill unexpired terms.

If re-appointed to their jobs, they will serve three years.

Usually Routine

Normally, re-appointment of commissioners is routine as long as the same city council that named them is still in office.

In fact, previous policy was to automatically renew the commissioners jobs, but a foul-

WIA Tells Quake Fund Drive Date

Westlake Subdivisions Improvement association this week kicks off a community-wide drive to help the folks hit hardest by the March 22 quake here.

WSIA directors firmed their plan at a special meeting last Friday, then added more fuel to the effort at their regular session Monday night.

Spurred by board chairman Cass Norton's statements that "something must be done immediately to alleviate the hardships resulting for several families, especially in the Palisades area," directors quickly agreed to champion a full-scale drive to raise funds for home repairs.

WSIA directors Wednesday targeted the night of April 18 for house-to-house solicitations to raise approximately $50,000 for Westlake earthquake repairs.

The association is recruiting a screening committee of prominent civic leaders to determine "fair" distribution of the funds.

Richard Dwyer, president of Westlake Catholic Men, has been appointed chairman of the solicitation committee. Persons wishing to contribute money and time to the drive should contact WSIA, PL 5-1352.

Solicitation day, incidentally, falls on the anniversary of the 1906 quake.

A meeting "to get the ball rolling" was slated last night at the Westlake Clubhouse, with the board of directors serving as the steering group.

Reminding that "we can't afford to delay this matter," Norton instructed association secretary Alyce Shea to phone all local civic, service, church, school and merchants groups, asking them to get behind the drive. Many were expected at Wednesday's joint meeting to lay plans for the solicitous push.

BRAIN SEIZURE BRINGS DEATH TO YOUTH, 16

A 16-year-old Daly City youth died early Sunday in a San Francisco hospital, two days after he was stricken with an apparent inflammation of the brain.

Victim was Fred J. Hooke Jr., whose parents live at 814 Bellevue avenue. A student at Sacred Heart High, he had lived in Daly City many years and attended Our Lady of Perpetual Help school.

Young Fred was taken to Mary's Help hospital Friday. Doctors had difficulty diagnosing the ailment. An autopsy uncovered the brain inflammation.

Surviving are his father, Fred Sr.; his mother, Margaret; a brother, Edwin; and grandparents, Mrs. Azilda Kohmann of Daly City, and Joseph and Sophie Pospisal.

Funeral services began Tuesday morning from W. C. Lasswell's. Requiem mass was held at St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco. Interment was at Holy Cross cemetery.

Markovich Heads 17-Member High Bond Committee

Peter J. Markovich, popular insurance man and chamber of commerce executive, has been named general chairman of a 17-member Citizens Bond Steering Committee for the May 17 high school district election here.

Trustees and the "cross-section" citizens from throughout the district kicked off the campaign with an organizational meeting Monday night. They will continue ironing out drive plans following the regular board meeting next Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Long Session

Trustees will convene at 6 o'clock that evening to conduct regular board business. The bond committee meet, commencing at 8 o'clock, will feature a question-and-answer period and determination of committees in each area. Public is welcome to attend, urges Superintendent Edward D. Morgan.

At Monday's kickoff meet, the invited citizens committee members got a full report from individual trustees on the district's facilities, projected enrollments, financial situation,

"Very good idea" was response given by councilmen Wednesday to a proposal from a private firm to furnish Daly City free ambulance service.

Councilmen ordered City Manager Howard Stites to meet with Vernon Vogan of the ambulance firm and draw up a contract.

Stites said abandonment of the municipally-operated ambulance service would save the city from $5000 to $6000 a year.

Vogan said he would operate two 1954 vehicles on a 24-hour basis, and would always have one ambulance on call for Daly City emergency cases.

Vogan would be responsible for collecting from indigent cases and declared he would answer all emergency calls, regardless of the victim's ability to pay.

His firm plans to maintain offices on Market street in Daly City.

The council directed Stites to draw up a contract and submit it to them at the next regular meeting.

Two other similar proposals from ambulance companies were received this week. Bay Area Ambulance Service and Silva's Ambulance Service submitted proposals, after learning that the city was considering abandoning its ambulance.

EXCLUDE COUNTY FROM TRANSIT BILL

The state legislature Tuesday excluded San Mateo county from the bay rapid transit bill, after an appeal from county supervisors and city councils.

City Manager Howard Stites said Wednesday, however, that the legislation could still be amended to include this county.

Red Cross Receives Quake Aid Requests

Ten Daly City residents have filed application with the Red Cross for financial assistance to repair earthquake damage, the San Mateo county chapter reported today.

The Red Cross has reminded other residents who suffered extensive damage in the March 22 quake that they may be eligible for financial aid.

Persons seeking to make application should contact the county branch at DI 3-4561.

Dalton 'Project' Opens Saturday

"Operation Daltons" will begin in earnest this Saturday morning when volunteer carpenters gather at 1024 Gilman drive to build the door and ramp towards which people all over the area have generously contributed.

The project, necessary for the safety of wheelchair-bound Dan and Betty Dalton in the event of fire or other emergency, will be carried through by Ray Savage, Ross Hilton, Al Bolander and others. They expect to see all the actual construction finished at the end of this weekend's work, so that the planned exterior paint job can be completed next weekend, April 13 and 14. Broadmoor police reserves will be the painting crew.

Some $310.50 has been collected by chairmen Ray Savage and Gwin Mitchell for the purpose of aiding the Daltons with this project.

Disaster Needs: Better Communication, Center

Lack of communications and an adequate control center were the two chief weaknesses in meeting the March 22 earthquake "disaster."

This was the concensus of the city manager and department heads at an earthquake "critique" meeting Tuesday — first of what will be regular monthly skull sessions on civil disaster and defense problems.

Most of Tuesday's meeting was devoted to communications problems. City Manager Howard Stites said the next project is to develop an interdepartmental communications system to be used in times of disaster.

The department heads will also press for acquisition of the PG&E building on Edgemar road for a control center.

PG&E has agreed to rent space for Daly City's civil disaster headquarters, but negotiations have bogged down over the amount of insurance Daly City should carry for property damage to the building.

Stites said the city's insurance agent has been instructed to iron out the details with PG&E as soon as possible.

Stites said he would meet with department heads on the first Tuesday of each month to form a disaster planning committee that would report to the civil disaster council.

He also revealed that a civil disaster booklet outlining what to do in an emergency is being drafted and upon completion will be distributed to citizens.

Taxpayers: You May Be 'Delinquents'

Cough it up, folks!

Wednesday is deadline for payment of the second installment of Daly City property taxes.

You don't have to pay up by then, if you want to clunk out the six per cent penalty.

In addition, those who are still in arrears by June 1 must pay a 75-cent charge for publishing the list of delinquent taxpayers.

The Easter Rabbit May Be Rarebit

Even two rabbits can be a crowd.

But Mrs. L. M. Rye, proprietor of Daly City Pet Shop, 6277 Mission street, has a multitude—25 bunnies she's ordered to sell for Easter but can't under Daly City's pet ordinance.

Mrs. Rye explained her plight to the council at Wednesday's study session. Earlier this year she had asked an amendment to the ordinance which would have permitted sale of ducks, chickens and rabbits as pets.

Her request got to the stage of first reading of the ordinance, but the change was abandoned by the council last week after protests of the Pet Welfare association, who pleaded that the small animals would be cruelly treated if sold as pets. Sale of the animals on a commercial basis (i.e., for the frying pan) is all right under the ordinance, however. Or you can raise them in your back yard, and still not violate the law. The question of when a pet becomes a commercial enterprise was not clearly defined.

"What am I going to do," asked Mrs. Rye in a distinct English accent.

"You can't sell them as pets," said Mayor Joseph Verducci. "It's a violation of the law."

"But if they buy the animals for food, I can sell them. When they get into the pot, I don't know," Mrs. Rye said with a twinkle in her eye.

"We'll give you a copy of the ordinance outlining under what conditions you can sell the animals," Verducci said. "Then you can let your conscience dictate what to do."

"But it's not the conscience that's my guide, it's the council," concluded Mrs. Rye.

So the Easter Bunny may still arrive April 21. But he may have to be par-boiled to get by City Ordinance 415.

Bartender, Brewer Give DC Cops Busy 'Routine'

A 49-year-old Daly City brewer almost ran over two policemen here early Thursday morning, and a few minutes later was booked on suspicion of drunk driving.

Arrested by Officer Lionel Hess at the corner of Hillside and Mission was Donald W. Teeter, 56 Woodrow street, whose car "barely missed" Officer George Brooks and Sgt. Rico Benedetti in front of the police station on Wellington.

Brooks and Benedetti said they had to jump back out of the way as Teeter's eastbound car whizzed by them. Hess immediately took up the chase.

According to the police report, Teeter admitted he had been drinking. He posted $500 bond and will face Judge Thomas L. Bocci on April 16.

Chris S. Dalri, 31-year-old San Francisco barkeep, probably will be a little more careful next time he goes on a drinking binge.

The pub keeper failed to heed a friendly warning by Daly City officers early Wednesday morning after they observed him driving erratically on Mission street. A few minutes later, he was tossed into city jail with no less than six counts lodged against him.

Officers first spotted his car weaving at "excessive speeds" south of Mission. When they gave chase, Dalri pulled up at the El Camino Motel. He denied that he was the man they were looking for and appeared to be in "pretty bad" shape, they said. The gendarmes then told Dalri to take it easy and refrain from driving until he sobered up.

Fifteen minutes later, police spied Delri's car going north on Mission street, clocked at 50 m.p.h. and weaving over the white line. They stopped him at Eastlake and Mission and the fun began.

When questioned anew by Officers M. Murray, Rico Benedetti and Richard Leahy, the bartender was extremely belligerent. He allegedly struck Benedetti on the shoulder after asking the latter for "your name, not your badge number."

Dalri then was placed under arrest. At the station, where a sobriety test proved positive, he continued kicking and hitting the officers.

Released on $500 bail, he's due in municipal court on April 11. The charges: drunk driving, assault and battery, resisting arrest, and two speeding counts.

Cop Foils Suicide Try In Westlake

A 29-year-old Westlake man failed in an apparent suicide attempt Tuesday afternoon because a Daly City policeman rushed into his garage to abort the action.

Answering a call from 31 Montrose avenue, Officer Lester Bastedo opened the basement door and found Andrew Martinez slumped over the wheel of his car. Carbon monoxide fumes from the auto's exhaust were pouring into the vehicle via a garden hose.

Bastedo took Martinez to Junipero Serra hospital. He later was transferred to Community hospital for observation.

"Family troubles" apparently was the reason for the despondency, police said.

up in the library commission appointments last year forced a closer observance of expiration dates.

Last year, following the vote in which Mayor Joseph Verducci was re-elected and Paul Hupf ousted incumbent Edward J. Dennis, Pacelli and De Martini were named to the library board. In September, ousted commissioners Wayne Carr and Margo Westgaard claimed that their terms had until September, 1957, to run, giving the library board two extra members.

Not Re-appointed

It was later ruled, however, that Carr and Westgaard had never been formally reappointed in 1954 and had continued to hold their jobs on the assumption re-appointment was automatic.

It was because of this snafu that the city decided to rigidly enforce expiration dates and formal re-appointment.

On the personnel board, a vacancy has existed since last year following resignation of Clarence Schmidt.

The council attempted unsuccessfully to arrive at a compromise appointment last week, but failed. Three names were proposed, but the best any of the candidates could get was two votes.

NEW FORMULA FOR HANDLING COURT REVENUE

A formula for distribution of municipal court fines and forfeitures, which provides for withholding a uniform 20 per cent of revenue from all cities, has been proposed by County Manager Robert Stallings.

Daly City Councilman Del Wilson has campaigned over the past two years to have the amount the court withholds from Daly City, 25 per cent, reduced to a more equitable figure. South San Francisco, for instance, only contributes 12 per cent.

Under Stallings' plan, all cities would contribute 20 per cent of their fine revenue to the court. But over the next five years cities realizing a savings under the new formula would contribute half of their added revenue to cities that would lose revenue under the proposal.

Under this plan, Daly City would realize about $2175 in new revenue next year, half of which would go into the county "kitty" to reimburse cities whose revenue was reduced.

Wilson said he approved of the plan, since, "It's the best we can do."

Councilmen agreed to back Stallingss' proposal.

DC INSURANCE MAN WILL BE HONORED AT PEBBLE BEACH

William G. Loughner, 174 Crocker avenue, will be honored this week at his firm's Pacific district sales conference in Pebble Beach.

The Daly City man is a sales representative for Hardware Mutuals of Stevens Point, Wisconsin, one of the nation's largest casualty and fire insurance organizations. His outstanding sales production has qualified him for honorary sales club membership.

Sales representatives from Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington, and the northern half of California will attend the meeting in Pebble Beach.

Executive vice president James P. Jacobs, vice president P. K. Brittan, and advertising manager H. E. Manske from the home office will participate in honoring Loughner.

Daly City Contracts To Fill Tank Hazard

Daly City will contract to fill the dangerous abandoned tank in the Westlake basin, directors of the North San Mateo County Sanitation district learned Monday.

Daly City will undertake the project for $600. The well is located adjacent to the sewage treatment plant.

In other business Monday, sanitation district directors:

1. Signed completion papers for Alemany boulevard main line crossing.
2. Were granted sanitary sewer easement through property in Westlake Unit 8B.

Boy Builds 'Bonfire' In Parents' Garage

Kenny Wendt, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wendt Jr., 26 Peter street, built himself a $250 bonfire in his parents garage Sunday.

The boy accidentally set the fire when he placed some newspapers on a gas plate in the garage, according to Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy. The papers caught fire, spreading flames to the wall and flooring of the garage.

BROWN RETAINS COP POST

One ballot was voided while two absentee votes must be tallied.

Brown, formerly chairman of the commission, will rotate to the secretary position at the commission's open installation meeting next Tuesday. Ross Hilton will assume the chairmanship, LeRoy Krueger the treasurer post.

Kirkwood Guest Speaker Tuesday For GOP Women

Robert Kirkwood, state controller, and the only announced candidate for the office of U. S. Senator, to succeed Senator William F. Knowland, has been announced as guest speaker for Tuesday's meeting of the San Mateo County Federation of Republican Women.

"1958—the Year of Challenge" will be the title of the talk, which begins at 1:30 p.m. according to Mrs. Jerry Orr, San Carlos, county president.

Under discussion will be the accomplishments, the problems and the objectives of the Republican Party in California.

The meeting will be held at the Builders Exhibit building, 1950 El Camino Real, San Mateo and is open to all interested.

Plans for the event were formulated at the board of directors meeting held at Republican headquarters, 1214 Burlingame avenue, Burlingame, on Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Gene Edwards of Colma announced final results of the telephone card party held in various homes in the county. High score winner was Mrs. Ebert Spencer of Burlingame.

Hostesses for the card party included Mrs. Donald McPheeters of Westlake.

State 'Jolts' 4 Local Motorists

Licenses of four local drivers were somewhat "curtailed" by recent action of the California Department of Motor Vehicles.

Severest hit was Raymundo C. Barela, 359 Heathcliff drive. His license was revoked.

Suspended licenses were ordered for Martin W. Steinburg, 180 North Mayfair avenue, and Frank J. Veitenheimer, 440 Santa Barbara avenue.

Probationary license status was ruled for Louie Bizjak, 512 Hillside boulevard.

Two motorists convicted of drunken driving escaped suspension of license. They were Edgar M. Bartlett, 579 Inverness, Westview, and Robert P. McKinnon, 436 Irvington street.

Actions were declared terminated for Milburn B. Boaz, 150 First avenue; James E. Donahue, 6232 Mission street; Bruno Grenci, 173 Santa Barbara; John J. O'Brien, 1126 Brunswick street, and James E. West, 440 Monterey road, Sharp Park.

Paper Gets Praise For 'Boosting' Big OLPH Paper Drive

Dear Editor:

I wish to express to you, on behalf of OLPH Men's club, the Boy Scouts in Troop 243, the Troop 243 Council, the Cub Scouts in Pack 243, the Pack 243 Council, which organizations are sponsored by the club, and myself personally, our sincere appreciation and gratitude for the wonderful publicity you have given the OLPH Men's club Paper Drive which was to have ended last Saturday, but due to the momentum accelerated, will of necessity be carried over until this Saturday, April 6.

Your most generous cooperation in this matter was certainly responsible for the huge success of the drive, and giving the Scouts and Cubs a nice financial boost.

Every member of Troop and Pack 243 and their councils, as well as every member of the Men's club, joins me in saying "thank you."

Bartender Guilty On Pinball Charge

Otis McKenzie, bartender at a Daly City tavern, was fined $50 in municipal court Thursday after being found guilty of allowing a minor to play a pinball machine.

McKenzie, who tends bar at Rosino's, 5999 Mission street, was arrested February 23 and charged with selling liquor to a 19-year-old Brisbane youth and allowing the youth to operate the pinball machine.

The liquor sale charge was dismissed.

Markovich Heads 17-Member High Bond Committee

need of successful vote on $2,900,00 bond and $8 million state loan "package" issues, and chairman Lyal Ingersoll's detailed rundown on how the money will be spent.

Joining Markovich as key officers on the steering committee are treasurer John A. Putkey, Daly City attorney, and secretary-recorder, Superintendent Morgan.

Chairmen

Selected as area chairmen to "backbone" the campaign were:

Bayshore-Brisbane: Al Rigler, Brisbane, and another to-be-named representative of Bayshore.

Daly City-Colma (east of Junipero Serra): John Putkey and Mrs. M. E. Nofziger, co-chairmen.

Daly City-Broadmoor (west of Junipero Serra): Bob Buchanan, Broadmoor Property Owners association president, and Thomas J. Callan Sr., county supervisor, co-chairmen.

Coastside (Laguna Salada district): James Cooper, Sharp Park, and James Fox, Linda Mar, co-chairmen.

Other members of steering Committee at Monday's meet were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard A. Painchaud, Bayshore; Mrs. John J. Eckert, Jefferson High PTA president; Walter Henkel, Pedro Valley, and Mrs. Helen James, Sharp Park.

Other Helpers

Unable to attend the first meeting but signifying they will work with steering group were Mrs. Robert H. Woods, Friends of Library president from Westlake, and Mrs. Hugh Williams, Rockaway Beach.

Of the almost $11 million that would eventually come to the district if voters approve the May 17 election is successful, Morgan said projected needs would call for an expenditure of $8,960,501.

"We based the bond and state aid issues on state recommendations," he explained, "and I'm sure our costs will exceed the almost $9 million I've outlined."

"We hope we're on the safe side with the $11 million figure," he continued. "We have no way of predicting the raise in costs some 4 or 5 years from now. We've tried to be conservative, like most school districts, but as I stated, we have no guarantee the money will be sufficient to do all the work."

Breakdown

Morgan's $8,960,501 figure is based on following "known" obligations:

Jefferson High—safety work as outlined by fire marshal's survey, $136,501; furniture, $52,000; plant modernization (electrical fixtures, et cetera), unknown pending survey.

Westmoor High—needed to complete first increment, $850,000; second increment (add eight classrooms, four science labs and three shops), $690,000.

General Needs — two additional buses by this fall, $32,000.

Morgan reminded that by using state averages to estimate total costs, the proposed Sharp Park and Linda Mar high schools would each cost at least $3,600,000.

"Not knowing the hike in cost of living and labor expenses by that time, the Coastside schools may eventually cost $4.5 million apiece," he estimated.

Interesting point on school district expenditure estimates was made at the meeting by Supervisor Callan. He remarked that the last bond issue in district was designed to include Westmoor costs. As it turned out, trustees underestimated their needs by about $850,000.

Brisbane Girls Plan Easter Trek

Brisbane Girl Scout Troop 64 members are busy planning a four-day campaing trip to Funzi's place in Boulder Creek during Easter week.

The girls will be accompanied by Mesdames Clifford Mozzetti, Robert Spencer and Joseph Thompson.

Sandra Beck of Mariner Ship 13 of Daly City, will be the first aid representative on the trip.

Trustee Selection Scheduled Friday

Appointment of replacement for Jefferson Elementary School district trustee Henry Kraus will be delayed until this Friday afternoon. San Mateo county board of education was scheduled to name Kraus' replacement Wednesday, but postponed their meeting until Friday.

Names of three candidates were submitted to county school superintendent James Tormey last week by a local citizens selections committee. Tormey will recommend one of these persons to the county board.

We extend our condolences.

Not being a native, we'll probably be labeled obstreperous, but we can't get over the varied pronunciations of Junipero Serra boulevard.

Some say "June i pear a Serra," others "June iper Serra," while still another segment exhales it "Who nipero Serra."

It's supposed to be "Wanipero Serra," with a "Juan" like interpretation on the first syllable.

WIA TELLS QUAKE FUND DRIVE DATE

ty," Norton remarked. "We're only attempting to show our neighborliness and give these people who can't afford the repairs—and there are many young couples in this category—money to mend the damage."

"We've yet to see anybody offer help, so the association feels it is up to us to do something about it," Norton continued.

Last night's meeting, starting at 8 o'clock, was called to establish date of drive, determine a goal, method of collections and disposal of funds.

Norton said the money will be put into a trust fund, with outlays going to homeowners only after approval of the WSIA.

"We intend to get competent estimators to appraise the damage, then will act on their recommendations," Norton stated. "This way we can be sure the appraisals are unbiased, and avoid any miscalculations."

Director Edward Murphy added that homeowners shouldn't be too hasty in the repair work. "We'll (WSIA) act as a sort of clearing house. It's better to do this on a group basis as it will save a lot of money in the long run."

Andrew Baffico, association architectural committee chairman, reported several "bad cases in units 6 and 7." He said damages in the Palisades area ranged from $75 to $2000 per home.

First organization to back the drive was Westlake Catholic Men, represented by president Dick Dwyer.

"All civic groups should help this time," he said. "Some of the people in the Palisades area may even lose their homes, expenses are so high. Even before the quake many families were just getting by."

Councilman Fears Outsiders May Win Police Jobs

Councilman Michael DeBernardi expressed the fear Wednesday that non Daly City residents might wind up with the police captain and two police lieutenant positions.

He said if there are insufficient candidates from within the police department for the promotional jobs, the personnel board might throw the positions into an "open" status, permitting non-residents to apply.

Mayor Joseph Verducci, declaring he was not in favor of having outsiders win the positions, said the personnel board would be asked to notify the council before taking any action to make the civil service examinations "open."

Under civil service rules, if there are less than three candidates for a position, the examination is not considered competitve and can be re-advertised on an "open" classification.

City Manager Howard Stites said, however, that he thought there would be three qualified local applicants for the captaincy and that decision of the lieutenant positions could be made later when applications are filed.

State Considers Recall Law Change

A bill now before the state legislature would increase number of signatures needed to force a recall election from 12 to 25 per cent of the registered voters.

The legislation was urged last year by Daly City council, following an unsuccessful recall election against three city councilmen.

Daly City maintained that 12 per cent of the registered voters did not reflect an adequate sampling of public opinion.

ANTIQUATED RULES, REGULATIONS

It's conceded that Daly City's civil service rules and regulations are badly in need of an overhaul.

Some of the published rulings are antiquated, others jumbled or duplicated, and still other policies are not even set down in writing, merely established at the whim of individual boards.

The personnel board is now in the midst of rehabilitating the rules and regulations.

In addition to revising existing laws, many should be interpreted and made more explicit.

An example is the conducting of oral examinations for city jobs.

The rules are entirely too vague on this matter, stating only that the board shall prescribe the manner in which the oral examinations are to be given.

It has come to our attention that on some occasions the city manager has given the examinations in private, with no witnesses from the board present.

This places the scoring and grading of job candidates up to the subjective discretion of one individual. A candidate could score high on his written examination, only to be rejected by a low score on the oral. This amounts to a circumvention of the intent of civil services rules and regulations.

In revamping the rules; the board should establish a firm policy for oral examinations, prescribing how many witnesses shall be present, what percentage of the total score shall be based on the oral and what traits of speech and personality shall be considered in grading the candidate.

An infallible system for grading oral examinations is impossible. But by clarifying the rules the job candidates will at least know what they have to shoot for and can be assured of a reasonably impartial appraisal of their abilities.

W'LAKE DMV, POST OFFICE DEBUTS NEAR

Plans are taking shape for dedication of the new Westlake branch of the Daly City post office and the new quarters of the department of motor vehicles.

Both buildings, located on Southgate avenue in Westlake, will be dedicated in joint ceremonies with state and civic officials and leaders on hand, it was announced.

Peter J. Markovich, managing director of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce, and chairman of the post office dedication ceremony, said he has appointed a committee of civic leaders to head up the post office part of the venture, while Stanley Seaton, local manager of the DMV, is to pick his committee next week.

Gala Opening

Markovich, working with Postmaster Vincent Murphy, is planning a gala opening for the structure, with the Twelfth Naval district band scheduled to be on hand to welcome the new building. Flag raising ceremonies will be handled by the Navy four-man color guard. Plans are being made to have a joint flag raising ceremony for both the post office and the motor department buildings. A four-man detachment of U. S. Marines from the Seventh Infantry Battalion in San Bruno will fly the colors over the DMV, it was announced.

A frame and stucco building, the new branch postoffice was constructed by the Thelhendo, Inc., a Henry Doelger enterprise.

According to Postmaster Murphy, 40 postal employees will work out of the Westlake branch, with Houston C. Holmgren, superintendent of mails, in charge of the branch. The new Westlake branch will handle all mail for Westlake, Broadmoor, St. Francis Heights, Westview, Garden Village and the rural routes. A fleet of five trucks will work out of Westlake, Murphy stated, and all mailing services will be available. For the first time, bulk mailing privileges will be available for Westlake.

The motor vehicle building, next door to the new post office, conforms to the architecture of the post office, being a frame and stucco edifice.

All DMV Services

All services of the California state department of motor vehicles will be available at the new branch in Westlake. Replacing the former cramped quarters on Mission street in Daly City, the office will be under the direction of Stanley Seaton, who will direct the seven employees who are to be moved from the Daly City location.

Burlingame Woman Held Tipsy Driver After 2-Day Trial

Nadine Quinn, 29-year-old Burlingame housewife, was found guilty of drunk driving Monday following a two-day jury trial in municipal court.

Mrs. Quinn, arrested by Broadmoor police on February 28 after her auto was observed weaving on Junipero Serra boulevard, steadfastly denied her guilt.

She will be sentenced next Tuesday.

'Masked Burglar' Due In Court Monday

William Golden, arrested January 2 as Broadmoor's "masked burglar," will appear for jury trial in superior court Monday.

Golden was nabbed by Officer Charles Manning as the suspect crouched alongside a Broadmoor home, wearing a rubber mask and wielding a butcher knife.

An ex-convict, Golden allegedly bound and gagged two baby-sitters in a pair of unsuccessful burglary attempts prior to his arrest.

Greater off-street parking facilities have been provided, with a paved area in the rear to be utilized for customers.

Plans call for State Senator John Dolwig of San Mateo county, Assemblyman Louis Francis and Carl Britschgi to attend the ceremonies. Congressman J. Arthur Younger, who was instrumental in obtaining the new branch for Westlake, will tape a special message for the dedication.

The committee working on the joint celebration include Peter J. Markovich, chairman; John Newton, former mayor of Colma; John Doelger, vice president and general manager for Henry Doelger, Builder, Inc.; B. Poncetta, vice president, and Jack Kendree, managing director of the Westlake Shopping center, both of the Doelger company; William Zappetini, proprietor of the Mar Vista riding stable; Joseph Rohl, P.G.&E. manager; Thomas Gilbert, P.T.&T. local manager; Edward Morgan, superintendent of the Jefferson Union High School district; H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary School district; Denny Franco, Westlake manager of the Bank of America; Louis Pisani, Daly City manager of the Bank of America; Ted Harris, manager of the First Western bank; Don Davis, manager of the Westlake J. C. Penney company; and Mrs. Grace Woods, president of the "Friends of the Library."

A committee meeting is slated to finalize plans for the dedication ceremonies, according to Markovich.

DAMAGE FIGURE STILL STANDS, STITES SAYS

Damage estimates on Westlake Palisades homes were still being submitted this week, but the overall Daly City earthquake loss figure of $578,000 still stands, according to City Manager Howard Stites.

"In fact," he said, "the more we review the figures the more we think they are all right."

Some residents who suffered heavier damage voiced complaint at the city's average figure of $250 damage for $250 Palisades homes. A few isolated cases of personal property damage ranging from $700 to $1500 have been reported. A family on Southgate, not in the Palisades, reported $375 damage to their home.

"We realize there was some costly damage," Stites said, "but we've got to take an average. It's my guess that 125 Palisades homes may have suffered more than $250 damage and 125 of them less than that figure."

The manager explained that the damage survey was conducted by representatives of the Pacific Rating Bureau, Henry Doelger Builder, Inc., Daly City building and fire departments.

A temporary 30,000 gallon wooden tank is being erected this week for use while the 1,600,000 gallon Westlake reservoir, split during the quake, is being mended. Regular water service will be maintained during repair work, Stites said.

Stites was scheduled to meet Tuesday with city department heads for a "critique" on handling of the near-disaster quake aftermath. "It isn't often you have a real disaster test and we should take advantage of it by reviewing our mistakes and planning for the future," the manager explained.

Brisbane Owners In Initial Meet With New Officers

The first meeting of the Brisbane Homeowners' Association, Inc., under the chairmanship of the organization's newly-elected president, David H. With, was held last week.

The secretary, Mrs. Janis A. With, read a copy of the letter sent to the Bay Area Pollution Control district requesting their attention and action on the burning of refuse at the Bayshore Sanitation district dump grounds adjacent to Brisbane.

Mrs. With also read a copy of the letters of invitation sent to the local Brisbane organizations in regards to the proposed Brisbane-South San Francisco annexation study.

Edward Whitson made a motion, seconded by Mr. Louis Duncan, to have the executive group (composed of the officers of the association) activate and form the steering, research, and membership committees.

Raymond J. Roland, one of the three trustees of the association, made a motion that a petition be sent to the county requesting formation of a joint Bayshore-Brisbane Sanitation district. An amendment to this motion was made by Julius Stern, asking that the executive group sit as a study committee on this subject and report it's findings and recommendations to the association's membership at it's regular meeting on April 30.

Cubs In Pack 261 Meet This Friday, Plan Paper Drive

Cub Pack 261, sponsored by Holy Angels Dad's club, will hold its annual roll call and inspection this Friday night in the church hall at 7:30 o'clock.

The affair will mark the first step by the pack towards renewing its charter. New pack officers and den mothers also will be introduced at this time. Families interested in joining the Cubbing program are invited to attend, encourages Cubmaster Robert L. Reed.

On April 13 and 14, the pack will conduct its first semi-annual paper drive. Proceeds will help to meet expenses of the unit's activities.

Newspapers should be brought to the church parking lot both these days. Persons desiring pick-up service on paper are asked to call PL 6-3365.

FIND STOLEN CAR, LOSE ANOTHER ACROSS THE WAY

Broadmoor police knew there'd be days like that.

Monday afternoon they recovered a stolen car that had been abandoned at 863 Beechwood drive. The vehicle belonged to Thomas Jessie, 334 Monterey road, Sharp Park.

That same day Warren Ramsell, 852 Beechwood drive (right across the street from 863), reported his car had been stolen over the weekend.

Police deduced there must be some connection between the re-appearance of one car and the disappearance of another, but at press time Ramsell's vehicle was still on the wanted list.

PLANE TRAFFIC OVER WESTLAKE STIRS PROTEST

An angry Westlake housewife's protests about "too many low flying aircraft" over the community stirred the Westlake Subdivisions Improvement association to prompt action Monday night.

The blast against the air traffic was made to directors by Mrs. Helen Fritzen, 50 Westridge avenue, who reported on her self-launched survey made last week.

"I observed overhead traffic in Westlake three days last week," she stated. "At one time, there were at least a dozen aircraft cruising over us at low altitude. Last Thursday, I counted 25 planes in three hours."

"In the past year," she continued, "I'd say there have been at least 10 to 15 an hour over Westlake. I don't know if they're sightseeing or what, but there are just too many, they make too much noise, and they constitute a definite hazard."

Mrs. Fritzen supplemented her charges with a petition signed by approximately 100 residents. "For every person who has signed to protest there are three or four who have similar gripes," she added.

Cass Norton, association chairman, said that planes cut across Westlake because of the necessity of takeoffs into the wind.

Air patterns from International Airport are set by Civil Aernautics Authority regulations," he reminded. "We can't control the direction of these planes, but we can do something to control their elevation, if they're coming at too low altitude."

Norton, informed that the association's letter to airport authorities went unanswered, got unanimous backing on his motion to send new letters of protest to the CAA, airport officials, and Congressman J. Arthur Younger. The petition also will be forwarded.

Director Edward Murphy summed up WSIA sentiments, remarking, "We don't want a repeat of the Southern California schoolyard tragedy. If the airlines are testing planes over our area, we want to know about it. We want a full report on this matter."

The dangerous intersection at Westridge avenue and Skyline boulevard again came up for protest at Monday's meeting.

Sig Adler, 77 Seacliff, rekindled the issue by asking directors what could be done to get stop signs or stop signals there. His own wife injured at the accident-heavy intersection last summer, Adler had good basis for his inquiry. Just Monday evening another bad smashup was reported there.

Hartley Appleton, association attorney, provided the reply. "We've been after the state division of highways a long time to do something. They say we have no basis for signals at both Skyline and Westmoor and Skyline and Westridge. If they'd take a look at these spots, they might change their minds. Something must be done, we agree. Just think of this fall, when Westmoor High opens and we've got more children crossing there."

Norton previewed additional steps to be taken. "As soon as we get this Earthquake Relief Fund out of the way, we'll call a committee and get a petition drive going on these two intersections. It won't hurt if we all send letters to the governor, division of highways, state senator and city officials. A concerted effort might wake up a few slow-movers in government."

Director Charles Santuccio reminded Adler that it took the association three months of "heavy duty" to get state approval on new signals to be installed at Alemany and Dorchester and Alemany and Sheffield. Plans have been drawn for these projects, but no state funds are budgeted now, causing the questionable holdup.

Attorneys J. W. Jackson and Robert J. Smith, representing WSIA in the dues and assessment suit against the Oppermans, reported that after a delay of "more than two months" the attorney for the Oppermans finally filed his findings with the court on April 19. Jackson and Smith submitted the association's opposition findings five days later, and said they are awaiting the judge's edict on his decision which favored the Oppermans.

"We still base our stand on the fact the Oppermans were bound by written contract to pay their dues and assessments," they echoed.

8 Local Chairmen Push County-Wide Cancer Campaign

More than 4000 volunteers Monday kicked off the month-long Cancer Crusade in San Mateo county.

Mrs. Albert A. Hedge, president of the San Mateo branch of American Cancer Society, said the drive has a fund-raising goal of $75,000 to help support the year-around program of the American Cancer Society.

"A second and equally important obpective of our campaign will be to impress upon the public the importance of getting health check-ups once a year," she said.

Mrs. Hedge pointed out that the American Cancer Society is the only cancer-fighting organization which devotes any of its funds to local programs of cancer control. Forty per cent of all money contributed here will be used in the county for programs of cancer education and service, she said.

Volunteer campaign workers in the northern part of the county are serving under the following committee chairmen, according to Mrs. Edna L. Calhan, division chairman:

Town chairmen — John J. Rose, Bayshore; Mrs. Louis J. Duncan, Brisbane; Mrs. J. S. Bellinger, Broadmoor; Mrs. M. E. Nofziger, Colma; Mrs. Henry Friedman, Daly City; Mrs. John Cox, North Coastside; Mrs. Gilbert Lazarri and Mrs. Joseph Gallegos, South San Francisco.

Edgemar Route Funds Voted, Call Bids Soon

A total of $1,500,000 in funds for grading and surfacing of 2.2 miles of a four-lane divided freeway between Edgemar and Skyline boulevard were voted Friday by the state department of public works.

Major project in the program for San Mateo county, the new freeway will extend from Manor drive at Edgemar and will include construction of a separation structure and an equestrian undercrossing at Edgemar.

The $1,500,000 figure was 3.3 per cent over the original budget allocation for the project. The increased amount is due to a re-design of the separation structure, according to Assemblyman Louis Francis.

The important freeway project, which will connect Coastsiders with Skyline and will be the only access to Daly City and San Francisco if quake-damaged Coast Highway No. 1 is abandoned, will be advertised for bid "immediately," Francis said.

Another budget allocation approved was the $24,000 for grading and surfacing of Bayshore boulevard between the south city limit of San Francisco and .1 mile south of Geneva avenue, a length of .4 mile in San Mateo county. Upon completio nof the open water section this portion will be relinquished to San Mateo county.

San Mateo county will also receive a $25,000 budget allocation for improving drainage and state highway route 105 between Skyline boulevard and Crystal Springs dam and state highway route 107 between Skyline boulevard and Canada road.

FIRST RETURNS IN 'SEAL' DRIVE GOOD: VERDUCCI

Initial returns in San Mateo county's 1957 Easter Seal campaign in behalf of crippled children are encouraging, according to local chairman Mayor Joe Verducci.

Reporting that the first week and a half of the appeal has produced close to $10,000 in contributions, Mayor Verducci predicted success for the campaign if contributions keep up at their present rate.

"Of course our goal of $55,000 is a long way off," he said. "And it is impossible to predict what final returns will be. But I believe the people of this county are taking seriously their responsibility to provide treatment and rehabilitation services for our handicapped citizens."

Verducci revealed that contributions received at campaign headquarters have ranged from a few cents to $150. "This campaign counts on many gifts from many people," he said. "We need a gift — no matter how small it is — from every family in the county."

Mayor Verducci called on residents to use the Easter Seals they received in the mail. "In any event, please don't return the seals," he said.

Verducci hopes that the current drive will produce funds to enable the Crippled Children and Adults Society of San Mateo County to serve twice as many patients as it did last year.

Contributions may be mailed to "Crippled Children, care of Local Postmaster."

Write Your Solon, But Provide Him With Full Story!

"When you write your assemblyman about a state bill, tell him the reason you are for or against the measure."

This point was repeatedly emphasized by Assemblymen Louis Francis and Carl "Ike" Britschgi of San Mateo county when they met in Sacramento recently with a group of legislative chairmen from various PTA's in the 17th district.

Purpose of the delegation's trip was to learn more about pending legislation pertaining to education.

Thomas Jenkins, 17th District legislative chairman, was in charge of the tour. Attending from this area were:

Mrs. James Radford, Woodrow Wilson PTA; Mrs. Gino Marchetti, Colma PTA; Mrs. Rose Guastavino, Daly City; Mrs. Marian Vickery, Brisbane; Mrs. Theresa Schroeder, Brisbane; Anita Robertson, South San Francisco; Mrs. Betty Monroe, Vallemar PTA; Mrs. Vern Johnson, Pedro Valley PTA, and Mrs. Helen James, Pacific Manor PTA.

Coast Highway 'Open For Business'

Coast Highway 1 was reopened to normal traffic Monday afternoon.

State division of highways reported that damage done by the March 22 earthquake had been repaired, although some construction work planned prior to that time is still pending.

The road, connecting the Coastside to Daly City was closed 11 days after chunks of the highway fell into the ocean and tons of dirt cascaded onto the roadbed from overhanging cliffs.

Lembke Couple Fete 30 Years Together

Mr. and Mrs. William Lembke, 1104 Hillside boulevard in Colma, observed their 30th wedding anniversary recently with a party for eight couples at their home.

William and Ethelyn, married in San Francisco, have lived here seven years.

News From Here & There

Needless to say, the talk these days is all about the you-know-what. Can't say I remained cool, or otherwise. To put it mildly, I was a wreck—but not alone. Most of the day was spent without much success to put my house in order. Each tremor found me heading outdoors. Think I'll be quite happy to settle for the humdrum life I had before the...

The afternoon of the day we'll all remember, the two Mercier youngsters, Robert and Priscilla, were surprised by classmates in Mrs. Sam's fifth grade and Mrs. Turcott's sixth at Colma school. They were feted at a miscellaneous shower. The Merciers home was badly damaged by fire a few weeks ago.

Another son (their fourth) has arrived at the Jacob Pava home on Skyline drive. He checked in at nine pounds four ounces on March 18. Answers to the name of Nathaniel. Two Tupperware parties were given recently by a pair of busy gals, with George Edel of San Francisco as the demonstrator for both.

Mrs. Mari Ann Hedricks entertained friends and neighbors at her home on Bellevue. Guests were the Mesdames: Lorraine Fazendin, Julie Eckert. Louise Smith, Happy White, Aleen Franusich, Phillis Ponscia, Sally Giorgi, Delilah Logan, Bernice Sobolik, June Bianchini, Bonnie Smith, Kay Bradley and Doris Ann Burdick.

Another hostess was Mrs. Frances Kelly on Wyandotte, with the following mesdames attending: Pat Ruiz, Melanie Jones, Grace White, Ann Dennis, Frances Guiney, Betty Rasmussen, Jean Hardesty and Jean Hathaway.

Anniversaries have come and gone for the Hedricks, Eugene and Mari Ann, on Bellevue, who feted number 16 by spending an evening out with their friends, the L. Smiths on Templeton... Belated wishes to Roy and Gloria Tripp on Marshall way, for their fifth year of bliss.

Starilyn Ruiz observed her tenth birthdate with a novel skating party at Iceland, followed by hot refreshments at her home on Wyandotte. The party girls were: Carol White, Dannine Rasmussen, Sharon and Susan Kelly, and Star's mother, Pat.

A buffet dinner for just the immediate family preceded the recent christening at Holy Angels church for Michael Peter, only child of the Peter Bianchis on B street, Colma. Godparents are Eula Thrombrough of Meridian, and John Bianchi of San Francisco.

The John Pointers on East Moltke recently became parents of their first little pointer, Miss Rebecca Elizabeth, who weighed six pounds four ounces at Children's hospital. Mr. and Mrs. William Houston of Newberg, New York, and Mrs. Frances Pointer of St. Joseph, Missouri, are the grandparents. Mrs. Grace C. Wells, also of Missouri, is the baby's great-grandmother.

Luana Anderson on Pinehaven drive welcomed her important ninth year with a luncheon party, shared by: Gillian and Avrail McLaren, Terri Adan, Melonie Allen and Eloise Gordon. Because of the quake, the scheduled theatre party after lunch was cancelled.

Catherine Gugleilmoni on Muirwood drive celebrated her fourth birthday with a gay party. Guests were: Noel and Barry Clark, Ramona Spinetti, Michael and Freddie Waite and Gary Garay.

Congratulations are in order for the Theodore Dydos on Price, who recently became grandparents for the first time. Mrs. D. just returned home from Long Beach where she visited with the new parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Varncy (Theresa Dydo) and got acquainted with granddaughter Tina Theresa.

Notes at Random: Latest addition to the cafeteria staff at Colma school is Mrs. Liz Kirby on Abbot... Over the weekend, the Laeighton Saltsgavers on Lausanne and their former neighbors, the Clem Whites, enjoyed the leisure "champagne flight" to Reno... Eight-month-old Miss Robin Ruiz on Wyandotte is on the mend after a bad seige of bronchitis... Joanne Jacobson on Second avenue is quite proud that her name appeared on the honorable mention list in a local paper... Five-year-old Master Robby Navarra on Abbot is indisposed these days awaiting the disappearance of measles.

That's all for this week from your tremor-happy reporter. In among the real ones, I've invented a whole set of my own. The number's the same—PL 5-5419—so please call!

Westmoor PTA 'Decision' Due

The Jefferson High District PTA meeting on April 11 at 8 p.m. will have high on its agenda a proposal to divide the association into two PTA units.

Parents of Westmoor students will adjourn to a separate room for organizational purposes should such a motion pass by a two-thirds vote of the active members present.

Mrs. J. B. Mills, 17th District PTA Director of Extensions, and Mrs. Roy Cloud, 17th District President, will be present to establish nominating and by-laws committees if parents vote to have a Westmoor PTA.

Parents of present Westmoor students and parents of eighth grade students are invited to attend in order that the school may have an operating unit when the new school opens in September.

Francis To Ask Bill For Probing 'Shoplift' Laws

Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo today announced that he will sponsor legislation providing for an interim investigation of present retail shoplifting laws by the Assembly Judiciary committee.

Francis stated that he had been contacted by numerous retailing organizations and small merchants in California who believe that the present laws work a grave hardship on small businessmen and they requested broader powers of detention over shoplifting suspects.

"It is of great interest and concern to the state legislature," Francis stated, "that retailers and merchants are almost helpless to do anything to solve this serious problem. Some small merchants lose a substantial part of their daily profits by thefts of shoplifters. The Colorado legislature is presently considering a strong bill concerning shoplifting," he added.

The Colorado measure gives merchants freedom from criminal and civic liability in detaining shoplifting suspects for a reasonable time. A similar law was enacted in Florida in 1953.

"This legislation, if passed, could serve as a model to devise our own law in California. An assembly interim investigation of this problem could result in a legislative program which could be of permanent benefit and protection to both large an dsmall businessmen in this state," Francis stated.

St. Martin's Speeds Building Drive Plans

Intensive planning for St. Martin's Episcopal church April building fund campaign took place last week in three meetings of the combined bishop's committee and building committee for the structure to be erected at Southgate avenue and Bradley drive in Westlake. The church now holds services in Westlake auditorium, 333 Park Plaza drive.

Culminating the series of meetings at which E. L. Abbott, church financial adviser, explained fund-raising methods proven effective in other churches was a gathering Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Brugge, 515 87th avenue, Colma, at which 16 laymen and the Rev. Allen J. Downey, vicar, were present.

This group, including Heinz Apostel, Hubert Arthur, Jack Baker, Merrill Barringer, Grant Berry, Joseph Bonavito, Richard Hall, Raymond Hunt, U. R. "Jack" Kendree, William Larsen, Donald McKenzie, Walter Michels, Richard Phillips, Frank Specht Jr., and D. R. Wainwright, is meeting with additional volunteers at the vicarage, 94 Palmdale avenue, Wednesday evening this week for instructions in canvassing the membership.

Under leadership of Mrs. Richard Phillips, woman's auxiliary president, the hostess committee for the campaign met Tuesday evening at the vicarage, for a discussion of their function in the drive. Present were Mesdames Frank Blum, D. W. Davis, D. R. Wainwright, Reuben H. Hunt, J. T. Stansfield, Mervyn Stang, Richard Phillips, Kenneth W. Brugge, Chester Mattison, Seth Miller, Donald S. Piercy, Gordon Raeside Jr., Walter Michels and John E. Ellis.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

Upon the death of anyone, a public figure or the guy next door, there are always those who eulogize to the extent that any resemblance between the dear departed and his subsequent buildup is merely fragmentary. Then there is the attitude, "Well, the bounder's gone, praise be, we can now speak freely."

We meet the latter quite frequently in "The Great Man," currently playing at the Stage Door. Basically, it is the story of four days in the life of Sam Harris (Jose Ferrer), a minor radio personality who has his once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to enter the big time. All he has to do is prepare and deliver the memorial show for Herb Fuller, radio luminary who has died at the wheel of his automobile.

Up The Ladder?

In return for doing a good job on Fuller, and en passant getting rid of Sid Moore (Keenan Wynn), an opportunist who momentarily visualizes himself in the saddle at the network, Harris will be awarded the plum of stepping into the great man's shoes.

It is Fuller who is the great man, enshrined in the hearts of millions, thanks to his ability to project a corn-fed, heart-warming personality right into their homes. They love him like a brother. Need we add he is also loved by his network for a more practical reason — his ability to sell "the slobs" anything.

As Harris interviews those who had known the dead idol, we meet him through their memories, and inch by inch we find that the revered figure had "feet of clay up to his knees."

It wasn't that he was such a terribly bad guy in the beginning, but when he gained power, when one word from him could sell a million boxes of cereal or blacklist a performer for life, he joined the ranks of those whom absolute power has corrupted absolutely. Those ranks are never closed, there is always room for one more. Possibly Harris.

Shortcomings

The film fails to take full advantage of the real drama: Harris' struggle in his own mind, played against the backdrop of the emergency of Fuller's personality. Should he show Fuller up for what he was and earn the undying enmity of the network, or should he pull out all stops, deliver a tear-jerking eulogy, and then don the great man's mantle, knowing that it brings money and power and inevitable corruption?

What do you think Harris would do? What would you do? The book wisely left the issue in doubt; the film doesn't. If something were to happen to those last few frames, "The Great Man" would be a greater picture.

ONE OF THESE eye-filling Coastside "sweeties" may be crowned "Miss Pacifica" this Saturday night at Coronation Ball in Miramar Hotel near Half Moon Bay. Hopefuls (left to right): Linda Huffman, Jackie Willard, Joyce Hagstrom, Ginny Westmoreland, Georgia Smith, Marie Hensley and Gail Faris. Missing for pix, but still in running, are Joanne Finch and Donna Kaufman. Dance funds will bolster Pacifica incorporation drive. Queen, picked for talent and charm as well as beauty, will represent Coastside in "Miss San Mateo County" and possibly "Miss California" contests. Recognize the local high school gals?

Holy Land Slides Slated Sunday At Bethel Church

Scenes from the Holy Land on colored slides will be presented by Miss Clara Schmidt next Sunday during the Sunday school hour at 9:30 o'clock at Bethel Lutheran church, 2525 Alemany boulevard. These pictures were taken recently on a tour of Palestine and present many scenes that were prominent in the life of Jesus Christ and particularly the places which are so well known in the sufferings and death of Christ.

Two services are conducted each Sunday morning, at 8 a.m. and 10:45 a.m. The Rev. Herbert P. Schroeder will preach on the subject, "The Chosen People," at both services.

At the midweek Lenten services on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, the final meditation on the Lenten theme, "Life Victorious Through The Cross," will be delivered by the pastor. The subject is, "We Overcome Misunderstanding Through The Cross."

Fichera Wins Easily In Brisbane Vote

Incumbent John Fichera rolled up an easy victory Monday in the Brisbane Fire district election as a last-ditch write-in campaign for William "Cliff" Gannon fizzled.

Fichera, chairman of the board, polled 429 votes to Gannon's 146. Frederick Schmidt, whose name appeared on the ballot but who withdrew from the race earlier, picked up 33 votes.

Members of the fire department declared Fichera's re-election "a vote of confidence" for the operation of their department.

A total of 1150 persons were eligible to vote.

RICHTER HEADS DC ROTARIANS

Rudolph Richter, Westlake businessman, will head the Daly City Rotary club for the 1957-58 year.

Richter was elected club president at Wednesday's luncheon meeting, along with a slate of five other new officers.

Named as vice president was Don Davis. Ted Harris was elected secretary, Carl Sotter treasurer.

Two new board members are Ed Morgan and Cyril Weiler, who will serve with past president Bob Watson.

The Rotarians held their first social function of the quarter Saturday, gathering for a barn dance and dinner at the Westlake clubhouse.

Cub Pack 347 Rewards 'Just About Everybody'

Cub Pack 347, sponsored by the Westlake Catholic Men's and Women's clubs, held its monthly pack meeting Friday night at Our Lady of Mercy school, with "just about every Cub in the pack" receiving an award.

In Den 1, wolf badges were awarded to Steven Tregenza, Thomas Tregenza, Dennie Macango. The gold arrow, silver arrow, and one-year service pin went to William Barry, Ronnie Belli, Michael Mathews. Eddie Montague was welcomed into the pack as a Bobcat.

In Den 2, one-year service pins went to Patrick Dillon, Kenny Schultz, and Paul King. Steven Kroll was awarded the two-year service pin.

In Den 3, the one-year service pin went to Robert Kane, Michael Kolb, Bryce Stockslager, George Crawford, and Sam Ford. Daniel McGowan was awarded the two-year service pin, while Bear badges went to Michael Kolb, George Crawford, and Bryce Stockslager. Bryce also received a gold arrow and silver arrow.

From Den 4, Steven Fernandez won a Wolf badge, and Timothy Mahoney received a Bear badge and a one-year service pin.

One-year service pins in Den 5 were awarded to Bill Spears, Victor Barlogeo, Paul Carrara, and Steven Russell. Wolf badges went to Bill Spears, Frank Clifford, Richard Moore, Victor Barlogeo, Paul Carrara, and Michael Madigan.

From Den 6, Gerald Beltramo received a Wolf badge, gold arrow and silver arrow. Michael Geisler was awarded a one-year service pin, Wolf badges went to Harold Buschanari, Donald Costello, and Gary Texeira. Patrick White was awarded a gold arrow and silver arrow.

In Den 7, Wolf badges went to Hunt Ewing, Peter Formosa, James Nash, and Richard Silver. James Nash received a one-year service pin, Timothy Reiterman and Mario Beltramo both received a gold arrow, silver arrow, and one-year service pin.

Edward Koplowitz, a Boy Scout from Pack 248, was given the den chief's award. Boy's Life insignia were awarded to: Steven and Thomas Tregenza, Dennie Macango, Eddie Montague, Daniel Kristovich, William Mulcrevy, James McNeilly, Steven and Lawrence Nejasmich, Frank Clifford, Richard Moore, Michael Madigan, Robert Norton, Donald Costello, Gary Texeira, Hunt Ewing, Peter Formosa, Richard Silver, Steven Shea.

Den 5 provided a skit and refreshments for the evening.

St. Michael's Meet

Mrs. Carmen Hatch, motion picture and TV chairman for the parent-teacher group, will be key speaker at the St. Michael's Mothers club meeting next Monday night in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock. Election of officers also will be held.

TV and Radio

By Mona Baker

"Pepper, Salty and Fluffy" the mailing envelope said.... Opening the package, we discovered name tags for the three furry members of our household and a letter from their "fellow tail wagger"—Calo Jr., reminding us of the fifth anniversary of "Calo Pet Exchange" (KGO-TV, Sundays, 3:30 p.m.) For a first-hand account, we decided to visit the program, to find out what goes on behind the scenes of a pet show.

It was a brightly colored and busy set that met our eyes as we entered the studio. Over in one corner, amid last-minute preparations for the show, three little roly-poly puppies were frolicking merrily, blissfully unaware that they were soon to make their television debut. With the show's creator, Frank Wright, as host, the program began, and as one "star" after another were led in on their leashes by SPCA attendants, we can certainly understand why the program has proved so popular with Bay Area viewers. Each dog, his tail wagging furiously, was an especially appealing performer as he faced the cameras and in his own way, pleaded for a home.

Who could resist them? If you are interested in securing a pet or are just a pet fancier, dial "Calo Pet Exchange" next Sunday. As lovely Patty Prichard sings softly to a homeless little ball of fur nestled in her arms, we don't think you will be able to resist, either.

NBC PROGRAM Bows on KQED... For months we have been eagerly awaiting the premiere of the first programs of NBC's new series produced for educational channels and featuring the nation's outstanding scholars, scientists and writers. Last week we attended a press preview of the programs which debut this week over KQED, and frankly we were quite disappointed. We feel the programs are not up to the usual fine standards of other NBC productions, and certainly cannot compare with some of KQED's educational programs. The producers of the new series seem to forget that television is primarily a visual medium, and the programs seem to be mainly lecturing.

NY Company Grants 12 Mortgage Loans Here During 1956

In 1956 the New York Life Insurance company made 12 mortgage loans in the Daly City area totaling $187,545, according to George E. Botta, mortgage loan manager in San Francisco.

In the state of California last year, the company made mortgage loans totaling $27,266,000. New York Life's mortgage investments in the state now amount to more than $152,758,000. This amount includes both commercial and residential property loans, Botta said.

In San Mateo county, the company made 93 loans totaling $1,682,240.

'Canada Ernie' Gains Ground In Statehood Battle

"Canada Ernie" Schallebaum, former Westlake carpenter, gained further ground last week in his much-publicized efforts to secure statehood for Alaska and Hawaii.

Schallebaum, president of the North American Statehood committee, said that his flag designs for the "state of Alaska" and "state of Hawaii" were accepted by William A. Arnold of the insular affairs division of the U. S. Department of Interior.

Schallebaum, aided with the backing of the 3000-member Union Local 22, of which he is a member, was assisted in his campaign by union officials Clement Clancy and Joe Sullivan.

Last year Ernie and two other carpenters, Roy A. Perkins and George Hartig, made front pages with a junket to Portland, Seattle, Vancouver and Victoria, displaying on the way their 63-starred maple leaf "Alaska" flag which they designed.

Schallebaum said government acceptance of the two flags will set the stage for eventual statehood for the two territories.

Temple Judea Expects Full Turnout For 'Seder' Event

According to Mrs. Arnold Beinner, Sisterhood president, capacity attendance is expected for the congregation's fourth annual Seder, to be held Tuesday night, April 16, at Stonestown YMCA.

Mrs. Beinner urges all who expect to attend to mail reservations in immediately in order to avoid disappointment due to limited seating capacity. Checks for reservations, adults $3.75, children $2.75, should be payable to Temple Judea Seder and mailed to 95 South Mayfair avenue. Traditional dinner will be served with all the trimmings. Chairmen in charge are Mesdames Robert Hoffman and Maury Weiss.

Temple Judea Men's club will hold its second annual Father-Children's Night on Thursday, April 25, at Stonestown YMCA. A dinner and show with novelty entertainment will be presented for all members and friends, especially the children.

Rabbi Leo J. Stillpass calls attention to the excellent facilities now available for all children enrolled in the Religious school. Classes are now held at spacious Westlake Elementary school. These new quarters enable all students to attend one session on Sunday morning, instead of the previous arrangement of classes on both Saturdays and Sundays. Stillpass urges all interested to either phone the Temple office, PL 5-9463, or bring children to the Westlake school on Sunday morning for registration. The school is located on Fieldcrest drive and Lake Vista avenue. Membership in the congregation includes Religious school and High Holiday seas. A week-week-day Hebrew school also is offered.

Tenor Jan Peerce Winds Up Concerts Series This Sunday

The current recital season will reach its climax this Sunday afternoon when tenor Jan Peerce, at the Curran theatre, is heard in the final program of the 1956-57 Spencer Barefoot Celebrity Concerts series.

The celebrated American tenor will appear here en route to his first concert tour of Australia and New Zealand and his first performances in leading opera houses of Italy.

Before his appearance with the San Francisco Opera company last autumn, he set the record of Las Vegas entertainers at the Desert Inn.

He will be accompanied April 7 by Warner Bass at the piano, and with assisting artists Boris Blinder, cello, and Walter Subke, flute, both of the San Francisco Symphony orchestra.

Tickets are available at Sherman Clay.

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

PL 5-0679

Small girls in frothy dresses dancing the story of rain and flowers growing, and looking like small court ladies gracefully dancing at the king's command, were only part of the charm expressed by the children who were the stars of the dance demonstration put on by the Westmoor Dance Group a while back. There was the group of first and second graders who acted a picture of a platypus, which Dick Ford made up on a flannel board as they danced, and the small king who looked so regal besides his queen in the nursery rhyme sequence. And there was a circus, with a tumbling clown, and the graceful black-clad older girls showing their ballet positions. There were pre-schoolers dancing to rhythms Dick beat out with, of all things, kitchen utensils, and a more advanced group from Mill Valley who showed what classes beyond the levels in our local dance group can accomplish. Highlight of the evening was the tumbling class of eager little boys, who made themselves into caterpillars, spiders, crabs, wheelbarrows, and a topply pyramid. It was truly something to watch Dick catch them in mid-air when they took off wrong in turning somersaults over each other!

Stewart avenue's Jean Bertken received a postcard from ex-Stewarter Alice Seaman the other day, Alice and children having accompanied her Navy husband to Guam. She wrote that the stop-over in Hawaii was paradise, and that Guam isn't bad. There isn't much doing, but they can go to the beach every weekend. Their house is new, with all the latest electrical equipment, but they never get any fresh vegetables or fruit, or any potatoes. Rice is ever-present! The shells to be found on the beach are beautiful, and coconuts are there in force.

Patchwork

Alice and Ferguson Mitchell, once of Washington street, will be back among friends in BV in the fall sometime, we hear. They are in Ogdensburg, N. Y. at present. . . . Seen out the back window: someone riding a motorcycle full tilt up the sides of the cut through the old Ocean Shore RR trestle. . . . Greetings to Sam Logan, new Sweetwood resident, who will be the Scoutmaster of new Troop 259. . . . Happy anniversary—the 13th—to Mike and Dorothy Orlich of Garden lane. . . . Sorry to hear that John Bergstresser has had a heart attack and must live quietly for a while because of it. The Bergstressers are in Chico now. . . . See that swish new gold and white Ford station wagon reposing proudly in the Maddux driveway of Bill and Lois Swanson? . . . Bouquets to teacher Noel Ranger for his terrific stage decor at the last PTA meet at the BF school. Three-dimensional and all, too. . . . Glad to hear Washington's Julia Rued is recovering from a painful back. . . . Ray Logan has joined the ranks of the VPGs—Very Proud Gardeners, this is — since his tulips have proven he has 90th street's greenest thumb. . . . We hear a petition is out re the thundering herd of airplanes literally grazing on the Westlake hills these past few months, causing small objects to dance about and telephone conversations to suspend operations in midair. . . . Happy birthday this week to a good guy, one Monte Dayton.

Speaking of small objects dancing about, Villagers, like everyone else within quaking distance, have had quite enough of that kind of thing. E-day had other causes for remembrance, though. It was Bea Meade's birthday (Maddux), and the arrival date of two new babies. Gregory Peter Watts made his appearance that day, all 8 lbs. 6 oz. of him, pleasing father Ulysses and mother Vera greatly. Small brother Bruce is in 7th heaven, according to his parents. Darlene and Ralph Winkler of MacArthur received a special gift That Day, too, in the person of small Paul Joseph, a 7 lb. 7 oz. companion for brothers Tommy and Jimmy.

Birthday Bonanzas

Young Jeffrey Williams had a 4th birthday which brought guests and neighbors out in force. Crowded into the Williams home on Manila, and overflowing out into the yard, were Linda and Gail Smith, Nina, Marty and Lorie Andro, Bessie Petros, Carla Howard, Shellie Green, Diane Fitzgerald, Sandra and Cynthia Daugherty, Kippie McBain, Ronnie Shepansky, Wallie Klevesahl and Michael Seftel. During the course of the celebrating, various and assorted other children dropped in, too, so a gay time was had by all.

Chris Goodner turned 7 down Stewart way, so gathered up friends and boon companions and went off to San Bruno park for a picnic lunch. Joining him were Steven Parker, Mario Rizzo, Richard Orloff, Jimmy Helmer, Mike and Jimmy Northrup, Jerry Parker, Susan Helmer, Jo Ann Bertken, and sister Carol Bertken.

Pip Mattison of Sweetwood came in for birthday bonuses, with a luncheon for his friends. Helping him turn 5 were Nancy Mitchell, Susie Schmidt, Karen Call, Eleana Delgado, Kathy Miiani, Mike Sinclair, David Patge, Mark Tannehill, and Roberto Delgado. Mothers came too, for a Saturday morning talkfest.

Music and Flowers

The music belongs to the "Stardusters," quite a good high school combo who played at the dinner dance held at the Golden West YMCA last week. The occasion was the annual installation of new YMCA board members and officers. Villagers present were Bob and Melanie Fernekes, Ed Raymond (wife Eleanor was at home ill; hope she's feeling better now), and John and Gwin Mitchell. Ed was named to the Y board of managers, and Bob and John were named to the branch council. Congratulations, fellows! We enjoyed a wonderful conversation with Dr. and Mrs. Clark Edwards of the Lakeside Presbyterian church, the kind of conversation which makes an evening very memorable.

The flowers were a part of the Job's Daughters fashion tea last week, which we hear was charming. The decorations were wonderful, and the models and dresses altogether pleasing, all of which should make the girls and their mothers very proud. We heard many comments on the canaries who sang all through the program, and how much they added to the event.

Sibine Fairbanks, one of Garden lane's sweetest people, had a birthday, and celebrated by attending a church building committee meeting. She wasn't cheated, however, since the meeting was held at a best friend's home, so Sibine had her cake, and a mixed chorus to sing "happy birthday" to her. Hostess was Charlotte Spruiell, and other fortunate people there on Washington street were Rex Spruiell, Jim Fairbanks, Trevor Jones, Kenny Gillespie, Dr. and Mrs. William Harberts, John Mitchell, Ray Lichtenberg and Mayo Bryce.

Another new arrival for Villagers to note is Barbara Ann Kiler, an even 6 lbs. of girl who balanced the Kiler family quota beautifully, making it two boys and two girls. The boys are Eddie and Kenneth, and the lucky sister is Cathy. Proud parents and Sweetwood residents are Grace and Ralph Kiler.

Paper Drive

Cub Pack 259 did very well on its paper drive a couple of weeks back. Fathers driving over-burdened station wagons filled with bundles of paper and small boys in blue were a common sight the Saturday after E-day. Unfortunately, some people thought the scavengers were coming, or something, and all sorts of things appeared to be collected, necessitating a trip to the dump with an even more over-burdened truck. Only sour note of the whole affair came about when someone got into the neatly stacked and tarpaulin-covered papers left overnight at GV school and scattered them all over the place, making extra work for people who had worked hard enough already. Tch, tch.

Westmoor 'Execs' Await PAL Meet

Members of Westmoor's student executive board will attend the Peninsula Athletic League conference this Saturday at Hillsdale High in San Mateo.

Students participating and topics are:

President Jackie Willard and secretary Peggy Jones, President's Council, responsibilities of student leaders; Joe Sarro and Bob Goodwin, class activities; Hank Shain and Bucky Hyers, student body finances; Arlene Anderson, Larry Schoenfeld and Carolyn Brice, sports and school spirit; Dennis Hill and Scott Parker, preparing for college; Ron Bosc and Linda Logan, student campaigns and elections; Ron Larson, minimum voting age.

Tom Panagoulias, student body advisor, and Clayton Kollman, dean of boys, will accompany the students and engage in the Advisor's Council discussion.

Storytellers

The women who have been meeting at Grace Woods' Wilshire home weekly for the delight of having Marion Garthwaite instruct them in the art of story telling, had another delight last week when they heard Polly McGuire speak. Long a favorite storyteller on the SF playgrounds, and active in many story-telling groups, Polly showed such tricks to the trade as paper beanstalks, sock puppets and song flutes. Present at that particular meeting were Judy Wilson, Aida Larsen, Maud Beck, Maurine Guymon, Fran Dethlefsen, Ruth Jones, Doris Barbata, Gertrude Madrosen, Eunice Lundblom, Barbara Hyer and Velma Yule.

Grace would like to see, and we join her in this, a storyteller's league started. All it takes is 10 interested people who believe story telling is the important thing it is. The importance lies in the act that it does reach individual children in a participative, not passive fashion, for each child shares the experiences of the story characters in a vivid vicarious way. In addition, story telling is one way to bring classic stories to children even before they can read, and to encourage them to pick good books when they do start reading. We didn't realize it, but found out that storytelling is the oldest art in the world.

From stories to plays is a short step. No doubt most parents have seen the notices about "Greensleeves' Magic," being presented by the Children's Theatre group at SF State on several dates. (The notices came home in the schools.) For those who can't make it then, an extra benefit performance will be given on Saturday, April 6, at 10:30 and 2:30 o'clock It's being sponsored by the Women's Faculty club, with all proceeds going towards student welfare. There will be color and music and enchantment for children and their parents for only 50 cents; so call Corinne Bryce at PL 5-3983 and reserve your tickets. Since there are not reserved seats, come early. The theatre floor slopes, so vision will be good from all locations.

We thought this column was all finished for the week, and then we heard about Cathy Poetzl. Cathy is a five-year-old, an only child, and like other little girls her age, she is wondering what the Easter Bunny will bring her in a few weeks. What she does not know is that it will be her last Easter, for she is dying of leukemia. One of the things she is enjoying most these days is receiving the cards which come for her in the mail and from friends and neighbors nearby. We'd like to ask that all the Villagers if they would send cards too, to keep Cathy happy. Her address is 1076 Wildwood. Knowing the people in the Villages and round about, we're sure Cathy won't be disappointed.

OLPHers Extend Big Paper Drive

The OLPH Men's club "Paper Drive" was so successful and gathered so much momentum that it was impossible to make all the pick-ups last Saturday. As a consequence, the drive has been extended another week.

This Saturday after all the paper is gathered and loaded, Ernie Reyes, general chairman, will tally his figures and determine the winners of the $5 first award and $3 second money.

Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts of Troop and Pack 243 will be out hustling, working with the pick-up and loading operations.

A spokesman for the Men's club stated: "We are extremely grateful to THE RECORD for the wide-spread publicity given the drive, and the club also wishes to thank all of the boys and girls of Daly City for their whole-hearted participation and parents for hauling and assisting with the loading."

If anyone was missed on the pick-up service, a telephone call to PL 5-4896 will bring prompt response. Call after 5 p.m., Thursday and Friday, and any time up to noon on Saturday.

Lake Merced Aux. Selects Lanilta Dunn

Lanilta Dunn was elected president of Lake Merced Auxiliary 9921, Veterans of Foreign Wars, last week in balloting for 1957-58 officers.

Others chosen: Marietta Lacey, senior vice president; Robbie Holden, junior vice president; Rose Fisher, treasurer; Simone Posadas, chaplain; Edith Solbakken, conductress; Margaret Fahey, guard.

Trustees selected were Agnes Sirianni, one year; Evelyn Dull, two years, and Stella Magoon, three years.

Appointed to new posts were: Hazel Eagleton, secretary; Stella Magoon, historian and patriotic instructor; Dorothy Heim, musician, and color bearers, Tania Earl, Hilda Stettler and Agnes Sirianni.

Delegates elected to the district were Sisters Lacey, Fisher and Eagleton, with Solbakken, Holden and Sirianni as alternates. Named delegates to council were Sisters Fisher and Lacey, backed up by alternates Posadas and Holden.

Installation of the new officers will be conducted on Saturday, April 13, at 8 p.m., at Benjamin Franklin school. Rose Fisher, past president, will preside. A reception will follow at Broadmoor Community center 714 White street.

In 1954 the average length of Fords, Chevrolets and Plymouths was 16 feet four inches, says the California State Automobile Association. This year it is 16 feet 10 inches.

CCPT Urges Only 'Top' Texts, More State Aid

Statements on textbooks, increased state support to local school districts, and a study for financial support of public schools were among results of a recent intensive session of the board of managers of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers in Los Angeles.

Based on studies of all phases of state adoption and printing of textbooks made several times in recent years, the CCPT conclusions on textbooks were that:

The best textbooks available should be provided for the California public school children, as economically as possible; the present State Curriculum Commission textbook selection system is sound; there should be shorter adoption periods for textbooks; funds should be made available to purchase textbooks recommended by the State Board of Education which are unavailable for state printing.

Cite Need

The CCPT, in a statement placed in the hands of all members of the education, Assembly ways and means, and Senate finance committees, urged members of the state legislature to provide additional funds to meet the urgent need for additional state support for local school districts, based on studies carried on by local PTAs throughout California. The consistent CCPT support of equalization of school support was reiterated in regard to these additional funds.

As far back as 1952, the CCPT recognized the need for a comprehensive study of the problem of financing the public schools, and at the latest meeting stated that the time is long overdue for just such a study, particularly in view of increased school enrollment. The study would be made by representative lay citizens, working with professional consultants, with the California Education Study Council used in an advisory capacity. The council, of which the CCPT is a member group, is broadly representative of statewide lay groups, and had previously indicated interest in the type of study mentioned.

The board of managers also reaffirmed the position of the CCPT in favor of juvenile traffic cases being heard in Superior court juvenile division, and in favor of the present age of 18, provided now by law, for those under juvenile court jurisdiction.

Medical Bills

Interest was also expressed in the bill relating to the control of diagnosis, treatment and control of cancer, feeling that the public should be protected, and in bills dealing with improved training for personnel in state mental institutions, and with aid in recruiting physicians for service in state hospitals.

The board of managers also made known the CCPT position regarding some 49 bills before the State legislature, supporting those dealing with the use of federal funds to establish library service centers, creating a public library commission and setting up a joint legislative committee to survey present organizational structure by an elective county board of education instead of elective voters, and some 30 others.

Opposed were bills, dealing with changing the method of raising money for driver-training programs, suggesting certain changes in child adoption procedures, lowering age of professional boxers from 18 to 16 years, and exempting children of 14 from compulsory education after the 8th grade with written approval of the parent, principal and 8th grade teacher.

Troop 410 Holds 'Court Of Honor,' Fetes Newcomers

Troop 410 concluded its charter year recently with a Court of Honor, beginning with the Tenderfoot investiture ceremony in which every Tenderfoot is brought into Scouting, followed by presentation of second class, first class, and star Scout awards.

Awards presented:

Tenderfoot Scout: Richard Palmini, Alvaro Rivas, Ray Spina, and Joe Scannell. Second Class Scout: James McGowan, Mike Gallaher, and Mike Dixon. First Class Scout: Paul Boudreau and John T. Drye. Star Scout: Glen Hilton.

Recruiting segment for recruiting three boys was awarded Glen Hilton, and recruiting segment for recruiting one boy was awarded James McGowan.

Ray Spina was presented with the Troop Bugler embroidered badge. Other junior leaders recognized for their services during the past year were: Senior Patrol Leader Harry De Vack, Troop Scribe Glen Hilton, Troop Quartermaster Mike Dixon, and Troop Librarian Bob Babson.

At the parents meeting following the Court of Honor, the Troop Committee was reformed for the next charter year. Following committee members were named: the Rev. Roy L. Milam, institutional representative; John B. Drye, committee chairman; R. N. Hilton, Joseph Mahoney, James M. McGowan, M. F. Gallaher, D. W. Brown, Louis Palmini, and H. A. De Vack, committee members. The troop committee selected William F. White, Scoutmaster; Henry W. Curle, Explorer advisor; and Anthony F. Contreras, assistant Scoutmaster.

Troop 410 is sponsored by Westlake Community Baptist church, and meets weekly, 7 to 9 on Friday nights, in the lower auditorium of the church, Elmwood and Southgate. Boys in the 11 to 13-age group wishing to join are invited to attend a troop meeting with their parents.

Lutherans List Easter Services

Special Good Friday and Easter sunrise services will again be sponsored by the Lutheran Inter-Church Council of Greater San Francisco, according to E. H. Ohlendorf, chairman of the committee.

Speaker at the Good Friday service in the Curran theatre, Geary near Mason, will be the Rev. Henry Hartner, executive secretary of the California-Nevada District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod. The service will begin at 1 p.m.

On Easter morning, the Rev. John Wahl of California Concordia college, Oakland, will speak at a sunrise service in the El Rancho Drive-In theatre, beginning at 6:15 a.m.

The services are being sponsored for the ninth consecutive year by the Lutheran Inter-Church Council, made up of representatives from Missouri Synod Lutheran churches in the greater San Francisco area.

DOERRS MARK 40TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY!

Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Doerr, 2 Belmont drive in Westlake, celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary on March 23 with a home dinner party for a few intimate friends.

Guests were Mrs. Sophie Breslauer, president of the Western Women's club, Mr. and Mrs. Len Kivett, Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Heaney of Piedmont, and Dr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Carew of Millbrae.

The occasion was highlighted by Don Davis, radio station KFRC, who presented a half hour of Clyde's old records on his "Dusty Records" program, from 10 to 10:30 p.m. Among these was a saxophone solo, "Valse Hilda," composed in 1922 in honor of his wife's birthday. More of these records will be played this Thursday night on KFRC, beginning at 9:30 o'clock.

WOODROW GRADS PLAN REUNION

Woodrow Wilson school graduates, classes of June, 1942, and January, 1943, will gather for a class reunion dinner and dance May 4 at the Sand Dunes on Taraval street in San Francisco.

All reservations must be made by April 27.

Graduates and their spouses are invited to attend the affair. Reservations may be obtained by calling Corrine Devlin, PL 5-1943.

Continue Series Of Sermons At Vista Grande

At the 11 o'clock morning worship service, J. Richard Friedline, minister of Vista Grande Avenue Christian church, 101 Vista Grande avenue, will continue with his series of sermons on the subject, "Committed Unto God—Through Love."

At the beginning of the service there will be a silent roll call of the congregation which will continue on each Sunday during the month of April. A meeting of the board of directors has been called to convene immediately after the morning worship service.

Bible school begins at 9:30 a.m. each Sunday with classes for all ages.

Beginning Monday evening, and continuing through Thursday evening, a 6:30 p.m. dinner will be served for the evangelistic workers, who will make calls in the neighborhood. Mrs. Nelle Hacker, chairman of the evangelistic commission of the church, is in charge of this work.

Wednesday morning at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Lois Murray, 54 Bepler street, Mrs. Doris Rockey, who is president of the Christian Women's Fellowship, has scheduled an executive meeting of all C.W.F. officers.

Skyline B'nai B'rith Slate Election Meet

Next regular meeting of Skyline Chapter B'nai B'rith Women will feature nomination and election of the officers for the coming year. The meeting will be held Thursday, April 11, in Temple Judea, 95 South Mayfair, at 8 p.m.

Ten new members will be initiated following the election. They are: Mrs. David Feld, Mrs. Sigmund Mendel, Mrs. Irving Posman, Mrs. Peter Rubin, Mrs. Albert Haft, Mrs. Charles Lewis, Mrs. Philip Karp, Mrs. Allen Shamitoff, Mrs. Gordon Sennett, and Mrs. E. Sennett.

This will be the first initiation since the chapter was formed last year. Guests are welcome to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Bullwinkels Mark 25th Anniversary

A gathering of 25 relatives and friends helped Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bullwinkel celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary last Friday at a supper party in the couple's home, 352 Winchester street.

Harry, 49, a teamster, and Martha, 48, exchanged vows in San Francisco. Both are natives of Germany.

Their son, George, 17, is Jefferson High student and an outstanding trackman on the Indian varsity squad.

YOUNGER ASKS INSURANCE FOR EARTHQUAKES

Congressman Arthur Younger today assured residents of Daly City, Westlake and the North Coastside that he will press for immediate adoption of a federal re-insurance program for earthquake insurance.

If Younger's plan is worked out the federal government would indemnify insurance firms so that they would be able to sell earthquake insurance on about the same basis as fire insurance.

Younger pointed out that this would provide homeowners and businessmen with the necessary protection at a reasonable rate.

The congressman declared that his program, he feels, also will save the federal government money in the long run.

"Soften Blow"

"The money paid in on premiums would soften the blow towards taking care of any losses and with such insurance the need for disaster relief funds would be materially less," Younger stated.

He is presently doing research on the plan with the aid of government insurance specialists and hopes to have a bill ready for consideration shortly.

Younger, on the day of the earthquake, phoned Mayor Joseph Verducci and other city officials and said that if the area was declared in a state of disaster he would immediately ask President Eisenhower for relief funds. Officials, however, stated that the area would not factually describe the situation as a disaster. Red Cross officials concurred in this opinion.

Increase Home Loans

Younger then personally requested James E. Belda, Northern California FHA director, and Charles Corbitt, Veterans Administration head, to immediately take steps to get all financial institutions to offer to increase home loans so that repairs could be taken care of over a long period of time. All lending agencies have cooperated in this program.

Title I FHA loans for 3 years covering repairs are also available at any financial lending institution, he said.

Regular lubrication of an automobile costs very little, but lack of it can cost hundreds of dollars in damaged parts. Be good to your car and your pocketbook says the California State Automobile Association; lubricate your automobile regularly as recommended by the manufacturer.

What Is Charter Government?

1. In essence, it is "Home Rule."
2. Instead of operating under general state law for sixth class cities, a community designs its own government in the form of a charter drafted and approved by the electorate.
3. Under charter government the city has plenary (complete) powers over municipal affairs.
4. Charter government is designed to permit maximum expression of the electorate as to the form of government it desires.
5. Charter government removes interference of state legislature in municipal matters.

How Is Charter Government Formed?

1. Charter government may be formed in either of two ways.

A. THE CITY COUNCIL

or its representatives may prepare a charter draft which can then be presented to the people for a vote.

B. A FREEHOLDERS CHARTER COMMISSION

may be established to draft the document

The latter procedure can be initiated by a two-thirds vote of the city council, or by a petition signed by 15 per cent of the voters. An election is then held to decide whether or not a freeholders charter commission should be established, and on candidates to sit on the commission. If voters approve creation of a commission, the 15 candidates receiving highest vote are declared elected, and they must prepare a charter within one year. When the freeholders commission has prepared the charter, it is submitted to the people at an election. A majority vote is sufficient for approval. After ratification, the charter must then be submitted to the state legislature for approval.

Is Charter Government Popular?

66 California Cities

Operate under charters at the present time. Studies show that it is the tendency for cities to adopt charters while still relatively small in population. Between 1947 and 1951, for example, all cities adopting charters were under 20,000. Only two cities over 30,000 do not have charters.

A Recent Survey*

compiled as a result of questionnaires mailed to 33 California cities showed the following:

89% of those replying recommended that a city of 34,000 adopt a charter.

92% of those replying cited charter government as an advantage.

61% said there were specific problems in their community that could be resolved by a charter.

* Study conducted by charter fact-finding committee of University of California. A total of 143 questionnaires were mailed to each of five groups in 33 charter cities: city hall administrator, school superintendent, newspaper publisher, chamber of commerce manager and real estate board president. The 33 cities were in the 20,000 to 50,000 population group.

How Will Charter Government Benefit You?

Following is a list of local problems which were cited in the study as specific reasons for adoption of a city charter:

1. Direct participation in drafting the type of government you believe your community needs.
2. Better government-efficiency.
3. Home rule.
4. Bond issue or debt limit procedure.
5. Attraction of better candidates to public office.
6. Control of Police Department.
7. More rapid implementation of council decisions.
8. Better public relations.
9. To eliminate commission government.
10. Reduce cost of government. Economy.
11. To acquire control of public utility.
12. Taxation advantages.

2 CANDIDATES FILE, 3 OTHERS EYE JUHS POSTS

With the deadline less than two weeks off, two candidates have filed and three more are reported ready to run for the two vacancies on the Jefferson Union High school district board of trustees.

Incumbent Ray Whitney, Pedro Valley postmaster, and William A. Larsen, Westlake contractor, have their hats in the ring.

Taking out nomination papers this week, according to the county superintendent of schools, were W. H. Beck, 431 89th street in Colma, and Thomas Noonan, president of Sterling Park Homeowners association.

Trustee Lyal Ingersoll, board chairman, intends to run again, but had not filed at press time.

Mrs. Katherine Mullen, Broadmoor housewife and board chairman, is still the lone candidate for the Jefferson Elementary board. There is but one vacancy this time.

No new candidates have filed in the Brisbane and Bayshore districts since last week. Both boards have one berth open.

Brisbane hopefuls are incumbent Louis J. Duncan, housewife Mrs. Laura Johnson, and linotype operator Stephen Rewak.

Incumbent Garnet Robertson has no challengers to date in Bayshore.

All trustee jobs are for three-year terms. Filing deadline is April 17. Elections come on May 17.

Indians Vow 'Comeback' Versus Potent Warriors

Stout-hearted Eddie Leveroni gets the golden opportunity to put his Jefferson varsity mates back in the North PAL baseball picture this Friday when he toes the hill at South City against the unstopped Warriors. Game time is 3 o'clock.

The Industrial City nine, '56 champs and odds-on this time, are tied with Hillsdale for the lead with 2-0 marks. The Indians, still stinging from last week's jolt by Carlmont, could roll all the way if they nudge the Warriors.

He's Due

Leveroni is overripe for victory. One bad inning against the Scots ruined his debut. But he bounced back Friday and had a 2-1 lead over Burlingame before rain washed cut the tilt — in fact all loop action that day. The Tribe and Panthers will play out the abrupted tilt on May 28.

Steve Mezzera's main concern is pitching. The Indians are walloping the horsehide — no worries in the offensive department. And off the last two exhibition tilts, Jeff's budding mound corps, the lads behind front-liner Leveroni, are shaping up fast. A sharp Leveroni this Friday could set off a chain reaction for his hurling buddies.

At Marchbanks last Saturday, Mezzera called on Jim Wilson and the lad stopped SF's touted Mission High nine, 3-1, on four hits. The losers used all three of the pitchers they expect to glide them to the AAA crown.

The Stickers

Three Indians shared Jeff's six productive hits in that one. Collecting two singles each were third sacker Leroy Franzoia, shortstop Mike Wedlake and backstop Bill Strassburger. Wedlake got two rbi's.

Mezzera's team scored two runs in the first and another in the third. The deflated Bears managed their lone tally next inning.

Again, on Tuesday at Berkeley, the Tribe looked good in losing. Cal's Frosh prevailed, 6-3, although outhit and outfielded by the Daly City nine.

Paul Tapia, regular first baseman, set the collegians down on four hits over seven innings. Two three-run innings, the first and sixth, caused Jeff's downfall. The latter rally broke a 3-3 tie. The Mezzerans had knotted the count via two runs in the third and another in the fourth.

Wild Frame

Tapia, like Leveroni against Carlmont, got off on the wrong foot. In the first frame, he walked the first four men to face him, and yielded a double and another base on balls before putting the fire out.

Franzoia and Strassburger, the Brisbane blazer, were heavy with the stick. Both collected two hits.

Cal, incidentally, made three errors. The Indians muffed only one chance.

Jeff's all-season record to date, 2-4, isn't a true gauge of their potential. The locals have knocked off tough Serra and Mission, two contenders in their respective circuits. Tribe defeats to Sacred Heart, Balboa, Carlmont and Cal were tight contests.

Leveroni and company have only one direction in mind this Friday!

Next Tuesday they proceed with the plot to San Mateo.

Caps Trip Local Spikes

Jeff, Rams Bested In Bruno Duels

Jefferson's thinclads Tuesday dropped two out of three divisions to Capuchino down south, but Coach Bob Watt wasn't too disheartened by the outcome.

Many of his standbys performed well, and besides, the Indians expected to score a sweep this Thursday in North PAL dual meet action with hometown Westmoor.

Ernie Ribera's sophomoric Rams, doing their best in their debut year, were heavy underdogs against their neighbors.

Clean Sweep

Capuchino did some pretty heavy damage to the Daly City spike kids this week. On Monday, the San Brunans rocked Westmoor in all three brackets. The Ram varsity fell, 106-12, the B's lost, 65-47, and the C's failed, 57-28.

Jeff fared a little better. Watt's B's registered their first win by clouting Cap, 73 2/3 - 39 1/3. In the varsity division, the Indians went down fighting, 61½-51½. And Jeff's C's, hurt by the sudden loss of sprinter John Margaroni, dropped their first engagement, 50 2/5 - 26 3/5.

Margaroni, who had the best 150-yard dash time in the league and was Watt's money-in-the-bank in the dashes, moved back to Boston shortly after the quake. Apparently his folks got scared out. With him, Jeff's C's may have taken the division dual meet title. Without him? Just view the Capuchino outcome!

Loop Marks

Loss to Cap left the Indian varsity 1-2 in the league, much below expectations. The Tribe B's are 1-2, the C's 2-1.

Watt finds solace as he looks to the PAL trials April 30. He has more than a handful of top individuals.

Take Tuesday, for instance. Varsity sprinter Sonny Martinez, sleek junior, grabbed second in a dead-heat 100 and placed in the 220, posting his best times of the year. The century clocking was 10.1, second in the North PAL. Watt thinks Martinez can hold his own with Hillsdale's Wayne Wallick, current leader with a 10 flat, wind-assisted mark

Smith of Cap copped the furlong in 22.3, with Martinez a yard behind, and Len Lamendola, Jeff's dandy soph, a strong third.

First place winners for the Tribe were Dave Calloway in the 880 (2:06.4), Reed Grandy in 180 lows (21.8) soph Felix Valdez in mile (4:53.5), Jeff Chase in pole vault (11-3), and Jim Farley in discuss 118-6).

Came Close

Veteran Andy Estigoy took third in the mile, Dan Miceli did likewise in 440, and Farley and Boyd Hillyer were two-three in the shot.

Watt's relay quartet (Martinez, Miceli, Calloway, Lamendola), also triumphed.

First placers for the B's were: Stahl, 75 highs; Buddy Pollard, 75 and 150 dashes; Sailor, 330; Leveroni, 660 (best time 1:30); Mario Delgado, 120 lows; Carl Mecchi, shot (41-7) and discus (107-4); Banos, pole vault (9-6).

Standout Gordy Tydingco paced the C's with a winning high jump of 5 feet, and second in the 120 low sticks behind teammate Marston. Tydingco holds loop best in jump so far with a 5-4 effort.

Watt's forces invade Carlmont on Tuesday and South City on Friday. This Saturday, both Jeff and Westmoor will compete in the El Cerrito Relays.

The Rams, after Tuesday's debacle, read as follows in North PAL standings: varsity, 0-3; B's, 1-2, and C's, 1-2. Ribera is highly pleased with the progress of his youngsters.

Westmoor's best against Cap were B first placers Rich Burnham, low hurdles, Voge, pole vault (9-6), and Mollison, discus (104-9).

Lone Ram win in C bracket was Johnson's winning shot put of 41-9. Westmoor failed to nab a single first in the varsity rout, as expected.

PESKY RAMS DROP TIGHT ONE TO LINCOLN HI OF SF, 4-3

Westmoor's surprising Rams, playing much "unlike" a first-year team, almost clipped one of San Francisco's better nines Tuesday. But Dutch Meyer's locals fell one run shy and lost a tough decision to Lincoln's Mustangs.

The defeat was the third close setback for the Rams. Going into today's tilt at Marchbanks with SF's Poly High Jayvees, Westmoor has a 2-3 record. The wins came over Lick-Wilmerding.

Workhorse Dave Simmons turned in another fine mound job, holding the opposition to four safeties. His mates banged but three hits, two of them key triples by Mike Deal, shortstop, and catcher Sid Swanson. Both, three-baggers came in the first to spark Westmoor's two-run rally.

The Clinchers

Lincoln tied it up in the second, then busted loose for two more in the top of the fifth. The Ram's final tally came in the sixth. Third sacker Gary Pederson opened the rally by getting on via a walk. Next batter, Swanson, ditto. Gary Huston laid down a good sacrifice, advancing both runners. Pederson then stole home and Swanson rolled into third. Sid was cut down at the plate on the subsequent squeeze play, and Bob Roller fanned to end the spurt.

Swanson, big man for Westmoor, finished with two hits. Deal turned in the defensive gem of the afternoon by spearing a sure hit in the fifth back of short.

Meyer used three first basemen in the contest. He relieved starter Gary Twitty with Marty Knedel and Bob Woodworth, in that order.

The Ram pilot was scheduled to throw Carby West against Poly this Thursday. Next Tuesday, the Rams entertain Washington High's Jayvees at Marchbanks. Tilt opens at 3 o'clock.

Ram Frosh-Sophs Face South City, Fall To Panthers

Westmoor's Frosh-Sophs go after their first North PAL win this Friday when they host South City at Marchbanks.

Byron Van Alstyne's young Rams dropped their second game last Friday, 6-5, to Burlingame here. Phil Fair hurled creditably for the locals and drove in a pair of runs with a double.

Earlier last week, the Rams were blanked by Carlmont, 8-0.

Westmoor entertains San Mateo at Marchbanks next Tuesday afternoon.

Ludwigsen, Wall's Mound Chores Win Pair For Drug 9

The Daly City Drug nine swept two more victories over the weekend via top pitching stints by Billy Ludwigsen and Mike Wall.

Wall checked Larry Barrett Tires with a four-hitter Saturday as his mates won, 3-2. Ludwigsen tossed a one-hitter Sunday as the Drug kids walloped Milano Inn, 8-3.

Terry Christman picked up five hits in the two ball games. In the Sunday tilt, Skipper Crudo banged out two triples and a double.

The Creighton-Krohn club plays at Marchbanks this Saturday at 1 o'clock.

Broadmoor Club Tops Holy Name For 4th Straight

Broadmoor's B softballers jolted to their fourth straight win Sunday in the West O' Twin Peaks league as they dynamited Holy Names B's, 14-6.

Victory was the fourth on the mound for Wayne Howell. He spread 6 hits, fanned 7 and walked 5.

Jim Manning's 3 for 5 topped the Broadmoor stickers. Dave Dempsey, Mike Land and Jim Orlich each punched out 2 safeties.

Infield "saves" by Dempsey and Manning, and a running catch by outfielder Dick Crofton made Howell's chore easier.

Holy Names dented the dish for two runs in the first inning, but Broadmoor posted 4 in its half of the frame, and led thereafter.

DC Soccer Kids Rout SSF, 8-0

Daly City's entry romped to an 8-0 victory over South City last Saturday in the newly-formed Peninsula Soccer League.

Alert Peter Pollet anchored the locals' first loop win, turning in a top two-way effort. Daly City, with a 1-1 record, meets unbeaten San Bruno (3-0) this Saturday on the enemy field.

Pollet's teammates are M. Selig, B. Rasmussen, B. Howard, B. Hall, W. Stroller, M. Drew, D. Smith, F. Byrum, T. Glasser, B. Aita and Mr. Garcia. The team is coached and sponsored by Daly City department of parks and recreation.

Pack 248 B's Drop Weird Tangle, 18-15

Cub Pack 248 B softballers rapped 17 hits Saturday but leaky fielding and too many walks resulted in a footballish 18-15 defeat to Cub Pack 79.

Marty Jaspovice's triple and homer in 5 trips was tops for the losers. Teammate Hunt continued his heavy sticking with 3 for 4.

Every batter in the Pack 248 lineup dented the hit column, according to P. Davis, assistant Cubmaster.

Pack 248's A's picked up win number 3 via forfeit over Pack 123.

Johanson Sets New Free Throw Record

Carl "Bobo" Johansen calmly poured 26 straight free throws through the hoop last week to set a new mark at Marchbanks Park.

Previous high was Sonny Stroller's 22 in a row.

All Daly City boys are eligible to enter the competition, according to Bob Leibe, recreation supervisor.

Mrs. Mozzetti Wins Brisbane PTA Post

Mrs. Charles Mozzetti Jr. was elected to a second term as president of the Brisbane PTA in balloting last week.

Others chosen: Mrs. Robert Greenameyer, vice president; Mrs. Monte Fice, honorary vice president; Mrs. Merle Van Kirk, financial secretary; Mrs. Otto Coffey, treasurer; William Galten, auditor, and Mrs. James Vickery, historian.

B'bane Card Party

The PTA will present a pinochle and whist party on Friday, April 12, at Brisbane School auditorium. There will be many prizes, and refreshments will be served. Public is welcome.

Ryan Heroes Jeff Jayvee Romp, 9-1

Gary Ryan tossed a two-hitter and belted a homer and single to give Jeff High's Jayvees a 9-1 win over Balboa's juniors Wednesday at Ocean View.

The Tribe backed Ryan with 10 hits. Five Buc errors helped, too.

Pat Lena turned in a couple of outstanding catches in the outfield.

Jeff is now 1-1 for the season. Last week they lost to Sacred Heart's JV's, 2-1.

DALY CITY'S Ward Angilley, U. S. Amateur Outboard champion, will display his talents Sunday in the 7th annual Lake Merced Regatta. Ward captured national honors last year in the Class C Hydroplane division. He lives at 128 School street here.

'Lake Merced Regatta' Features DC's 'Champ'

Speedboat racing at its splashing best will take the local spotlight Sunday in the thrilling form of the 7th annual Lake Merced Outboard Regatta.

The national's foremost daredevils, including U. S. Amateur Champion Ward Angilley of Daly City, will compete in the free-to-the-public spectacle.

Sponsored by the Mariposa Boat club, the regatta marks the 25th anniversary of the popular club. Fittingly, Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco has proclaimed this Sunday as "Mariposa Boat Club Day."

Early Start

Sunday's program starts at 10 o'clock as the public will be allowed to inspect the boats and meet the celebrated drivers, and action will continue until 4:30 in the afternoon.

Besides Angilley, national hi-point champ in 1956, the star-studded field will consist of such prominent drivers as Steve Gotelli, Frank Miller, Chuck Parsons, Frank Signorello, and Bill Carsons Jr.

Angilley and Gotelli, a San Franciscan, are both past winners of the Ernie Millot National Memorial Trophy for outstanding sportsmanship. Gotelli this time has a new boat from the East coast, thus his duel with Angilley in the C Hydroplane event should be the highlight of the afternoon.

Top Duels

Other rivalries will feature Parsons and Signorello in the F Class Racing Hydroplanes (with speeds up to 76 m.p.h.), and the Carsons (father and son) against past Commodore E. Viola and Al Cooper in the F Class Runabouts (two-man teams).

The younger set will be represented by such standouts as Ron Radicali, 16, and the Herrick sisters, Julie, 16, and Janet, 14. Radicali usually teams with his father in the A Stock Hydroplanes, but the latter will be busy as chairman of the race committee.

A new racing division, designated the 36 Stock Class, also will be introduced Sunday. It will mark the debut of family pleasure craft into racing. One of the competitors in this event will be Bob Jeverian, local boat shop owner.

Spectators are invited to bring lunches as full picnicking facilities will be available.

Pedro Keglers Lead By Two!

With only two weeks (6 games) to go, San Pedro's raging Lunchmen are perched atop the Daly City-Colma bowling league a corker all the way.

The spaghetti servers busted the first place deadlock Tuesday night, sweeping three games by forfeit from fail-to-show Paul's Flowers. McGahey & Olson, meanwhile, toppled to two games back by dropping a pair to Thur Meats.

Brisbane Market, now tied for second, split verdicted Luce Meats to stay on the title trail. C. Knapp paced the out-of-towners with a 579 series. H last two games were 203 ar 218.

DeLucchi Is Tops Again For Mermen

Jefferson's winless varsity and C's swimmers finished second best the fourth time last week at the hands of Burlingame's crown-bound mermen.

Joe McGrath's locals B's managed to trip their hosts, 37½-28½. Varsity county was 62-15, and the C's result, 41-9. Jeff's B's are 2-2 in North PAL listings.

Panther Bill Layton stole the show, setting a league mark with a 58 seconds effort in the varsity 100 freestyle.

Phil DeLucchi, Indian sensation, continued his torrid pace in the 100 breaststroke and the individual medley. Phil went all out to win both events, nothing unusual for him, according to McGrath.

Howard pulled a "DeLucchi" for the Tribe B's, posting double wins in the same events. Ahern won the 50 backstroke and Phillips led Jeff's sweep in diving.

The Indians traveled to San Mateo this Thursday. South City hosts the locals April 11.

Shoppers Keep Softball Lead, Sock OLM, 7-1

Westlake Shopping Center maintained its softball leadership in the Westlake League Sunday as B. Boyd stopped Our Lady of Mercy's men, 7-1.

W'lake Richfield stayed in the picture with a 7-1 triumph over Joe's nine. John Hood fashioned a three-hitter for the gas-house gang.

In the other tilt, W'lake Lodge sneaked across the clincher in the last inning to trip Val's, 6-5. The losers had a 5-2 edge until the sixth frame. Tom Kitchens was winning hurler.

Seventh week of play this Sunday pits Joe's against Val's, 11 o'clock; Richfield against OLM, 1 o'clock, and the pace-setting Merchants against the Lodge at 3.

Riedstra, Cloutier Make West Roster For Prep 'Classic'

Guard Bill Riedstra and end Tom Cloutier of Jefferson this week were named to the 31-man West Bay squad for its battle with the East Bay in the annual 20-30 Club prep classic at Kezar on August 23.

Riedstra made All-North PAL last fall, while Cloutier earned honorable mention. Both standouts for Joe McGrath were transfers from Poly High.

Joe Butcher, South City guard and All-Northern California in 1956, also is on the West roster.
